

DEFEATS ATTEMPT TO FIX DATE FOR VOTE

LA FOLLETTE'S OBJECTION PREVENTS FIXING OF DATE FOR VOTE ON RECIPROCITY PACT.

INQUIRY CONTINUES

W. H. Cook of Duluth Testifies Before Lorimer Committee Today—Tells of Conversation With Hines and Refers to Senator Stephenson.

Washington, June 27.—Out of the smoke of the battle over the foot amendment to the reciprocity bill, which the senate rejected last evening, came the widening of the scope of debate over the bill, beginning today, with Townsend of Michigan, as one of the principal speakers.

An attempt of Chairman Penrose to fix July 24th for a vote on reciprocity was defeated in the senate today through La Follette's objection.

The debate indicated that a portion of the republican insurgents and some of the democrats will fight to have the wool revision and free list bills passed first so that President Taft will have to act on them before the senate passes the reciprocity bill.

Resumes Inquiry. Washington, June 27.—When the Lorimer inquiry opened this morning Clarence B. Fink told the committee that three detectives who had been shadowing him, were in the room. The committee immediately summoned the detectives, but no time was set for their testimony.

Later, cross-examination of Fink regarding the alleged request for a ten thousand dollar contribution to the Lorimer election fund was begun.

"There's Old Stephenson," W. H. Cook of Duluth, Minnesota, a lumberman, was the next witness. He told about having a conversation with Hines.

"Now for instance," Cook testified that Hines said, "There's a fellow named Fink who's been working for free lumber. Southern democrats are the worst of the whole lot. He (Hines) said he would have them all fixed up one day, and next day they'd fly."

The Penrose resolution was proposed for vote on reciprocity, July twenty-fourth; wool the twenty-sixth; free list, the twenty-eighth. La Follette's objection was made only to the vote on reciprocity. Smoot however objected to the other two.

Submit Report. After two years of investigation of the Steel Trust, commissioners of corporations Smith today laid before President Taft an exhaustive report of his findings. The report will soon be made public so the house committee investigating the Steel Trust may obtain the benefit of it.

Direct Election. Joint resolution for direct election of senators was sent to the conference today by the senate. Clark, Wyoming; Nelson, Minnesota; Bacon, Georgia, named conferees.

QUARREL OVER MEAL CAUSE OF STABBING

Milwaukee, Wis., June 27.—A dispute over the payment of 15 cents for a meal here today caused Alex Herbin, aged 15, a negro, to be stabbed, to fatally stab George Leventis, aged 25, a waiter.

WISCONSIN MATCHED AGAINST CREWS OF EASTERN SCHOOLS

Varsity Oarsmen Row Against Crack Boatmen of All Four Eastern Colleges At Poughkeepsie Today.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Poughkeepsie, June 27.—Fourteen picked crews, representing Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Wisconsin universities, after weeks of training for today's intercollegiate regatta, were early astir, eagerly awaiting the crack of the starter's pistol. The five universities are to be represented in each of the scheduled events, with the exception of Wisconsin, which has not entered a crew in the four-oared race.

Cornell won the four oared race with Syracuse crew second.

The Frothingham eight was won by Columbia; Cornell was second; Syracuse, third; Pennsylvania, fourth; Wisconsin was last. Time 10:13 1/5.

Kentucky Educational Association. Owensboro, Ky., June 27.—How to create schools, best fitted for educating the rural population of the State of Kentucky will be the most important and interesting topic to be considered during the three day session of the Kentucky Educational Association, which opened here today with a large attendance and under the most favorable auspices. Many distinguished educators from all parts of the State are present and Prof. E. J. Crates, of Richmond, the president of the organization, Thos. B. McGrover, of Frankfort, the Third Assistant Attorney General of Kentucky and several other distinguished speakers will address the gathering.

To Honor John Hays Hammond. London, June 27.—Elaborate preparations have been made for the banquet to be given at the Savoy hotel tomorrow night in honor of John Hays Hammond, the special ambassador from the United States to the coronation. The affair will be given under the auspices of the Philhellenes.

KENOSHA LUMBERMAN ACCUSED BY WOMAN IN SMUGGLING CASE

Nathan Allen, of Kenosha, Named by Mrs. Helen Jenkins as One of Two Who Smuggled Diamonds Into United States.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

New York, June 27.—Mrs. Helen D. Jenkins the recipient of three hundred thousand dollars worth of jewelry, alleged to have been smuggled into the United States, today named the other persons implicated in the case. The men, according to Mrs. Jenkins, are Nathan Allen, of Kenosha, Wis., millionaire lumberman, and John R. Collins, of Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Jenkins says that she has made a complete statement to the government of her relations with the two men.

Private detective hired by Allen, insists that the bringing of his name in the case is without warrant and that it is the result of an unsuccessful attempt by Mrs. Jenkins to blackmail him.

MAYOR SEIDEL READY WITH TWO SPEECHES

Milwaukee Chief Official Will Deliver Two Addresses at Sociological Conference.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 27.—Mayor Seidel, Milwaukee socialist mayor, today completed the addresses he will deliver at the Sagamore sociological conference at Sagamore Beach, New York, on Friday, and at the banquet to be tendered him by eastern socialists at New York Saturday evening. Congressman Burger also will be a guest of honor and will speak at the meeting.

COMMENCE PROBE OF WALL PAPER TRUST

Special Federal Grand Jury Began Investigation of Alleged Combination in Cleveland Today.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Cleveland, June 27.—The probe of the alleged wall paper trust by the federal government was begun here today when a special Federal Grand Jury was summoned for that purpose.

Montana for Good Roads. Missoula, Mont., June 27.—The problem of improved highways will be discussed in all its phases by the road-building experts and others who gathered in this city today for the second annual meeting of the Montana Good Roads Congress. The sessions will last two days. Scientific building and repairing of roadways will be given attention, also the organization of local good roads associations throughout the state. Another matter to be discussed is the project to build improved highways to connect the capital cities of all the northwestern states.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD MEN

Meeting of the School Boards of County To Be Held Here July 13 At High School Building.

Members of the various school boards of the county will assemble in Janesville on July 13, at the high school building for the annual meeting of their organization. It is expected that about 250 of the school board members and others throughout the county, who were interested in the county schools will be present.

As yet the plans outlined by County Superintendent Antkowiak for the meeting are merely tentative and nothing definite has been decided. It is thought, however, that Assistant State Superintendent J. B. Barden will be present as well as W. E. Larson, rural school inspector and W. H. Hunt, state graded school inspector. Mr. Antkowiak has endeavored to set out several subjects which he wants as the chief ones to come up for discussion. Leadership in education and the work of the county superintendent will be possible subjects for speeches by the men from the state educational department. Another thing which is held to be discussed is the new pension act for teachers and several of the new educational and school laws.

To Discuss Commercial Problems. Temple, Tex., June 27.—Secretaries of commercial clubs from all sections of the State are in attendance at the third annual institute and school of instruction of the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association, which opened here today for a two-day session. The discussion of commercial problems and the best means to meet them, the best means of conducting the work of commercial clubs and of making their activity more efficient will be among the most important features of the instructive program mapped out this session of the institute.

Dollar Dinner to Gov. Wilson. Newark, N. J., June 27.—Preparations are nearly completed for the "Dollar Dinner" which the Woodrow Wilson League of Essex County has arranged for tomorrow night in honor of Governor Wilson. In appreciation of the work done under his administration and in recognition of the "dawn of a new era" in the politics of this State under his leadership. The Krugger Auditorium dining hall, in this city, which has a seating capacity of 500, has been elaborately decorated for this occasion in orange and black, the Princeton University colors. Gov. Wilson will be the principal speaker of the evening.

COMING HIGH BUT IT'S WORTH THE PRICE.

Washington news item—"Trust busting" cost the Government $845,181 in disbursements to special assistants and district attorneys between March 5, 1909 and May 31, 1911.

PROCEEDINGS BEGUN AGAINST SO-CALLED PERIODICAL TRUST

Federal District Attorney Wise Commences Prosecution of Alleged Magazine Clearing Houses For Violation of Sherman Law.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

New York, June 27.—Alleged unlawful combinations to restrain interstate trade and foreign commerce in magazines and other periodical publications, Federal District Attorney Wise today instituted proceedings under the Sherman law against a periodical clearing house and a score of other defendants. It is alleged that the combination by fixing prices have driven all independent, but agents out of the magazine subscription business.

WILL SEND REQUEST FOR INVESTIGATION

Into The Election of Senator Isaac Stephenson to Congress at an Early Date.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., June 27.—It is announced today that the secretary of state will certify that the legislative resolution asking that the United States Senate investigate the bribery charges connected with the election of United States Senator Isaac Stephenson tomorrow and that it will be once forwarded to the national body. The secretary of state did not receive the resolution until late yesterday afternoon.

ANOTHER VICTIM IN AEROPLANE FLIGHTS

M. Le Lasseur Fell From Machine and Was Dragged And Terribly Injured in Trip to Brussels.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Breda, The Netherlands, June 27.—The toll of three deaths in the Paris to London direct aeroplane races was probably increased one today when M. Le Lasseur fell while starting on his flight to Brussels. He was caught under the machine and terribly injured.

MANAGER O'HARE HAS RESIGNED HIS POSITION.

Fond du Lac, June 27.—Tom O'Hare, manager of the Fond du Lac team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league for two years, resigned his position today, to take effect immediately.

MAN DROPPED DEAD ON TRAIN AT FOND DU LAC

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Fond du Lac, June 27.—M. G. Mitchell, aged 49, of Centerville, Ill., dropped dead here today on a Soo train while enroute from Chicago to Ashland, Wis.

Fine Horses on Exhibition. Columbus, O., June 27.—What promises to be one of the most successful horse shows ever given in Ohio opened here today under the auspices of the Columbus Horse Show association. The most notable breeding establishments of Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia, Illinois and several other states are represented. The show will continue three days.

M'GOVERN APPOINTS WATERTOWN MAN TO SUCCEED DR. CLARK

Dr. A. H. Hartwig Named as State Veterinarian to Succeed Local Man.—Confirmation up to State Senate.

Governor McGovern today appointed a state veterinarian to succeed Dr. D. B. Clark of this city. The appointment is for two years at a salary of $2,250 per annum.

DR. D. B. CLARK.

$2,250 per annum. The appointment is, however, subject to confirmation by the state senate. Friends of Dr. Clark, in the senate, feeling that his services have been very efficient and deserving of reward, will probably oppose the confirmation of Hartwig's and may be successful in bringing about a refusal to confirm the governor's appointment. Dr. Clark has done much to bring the state veterinarian's department up to a high standard of efficiency in its work.

Gov. Montague to Address Lawyers Bedford Springs, Pa., June 27.—Today was the opening day of the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Bar Association, which will be in session here until and including Thursday. The attendance is unusually large and the program arranged for the three day's sessions includes many features of interest to members of the bar. The list of speakers is headed by Governor A. J. Montague, of Virginia, who is scheduled to deliver the principal address of the meeting.

Two Hundred Youngsters From Windy City Arrive at Kenosha, Where They Will Stay 'Till October 1st.

[BY UNITED PRESS.] Kenosha, Wis., June 27.—Two hundred children from Chicago began their summer life at the summer home for children under the direction of the Sisters of St. Mary, here today. They will remain at the home until October 1st, spending a portion of the time in school, but most of it in play along the lake shore.

CHARGE CONSPIRACY TO RESTRAIN TRADE

Suit Filed in Federal Court Today Against Periodical Clearing House of New York City.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, June 27.—A civil suit was filed with the federal court today for the dissolution of the periodical clearing house on an allegation that it is an unlawful combination and conspiracy to restrain trade in magazines and other periodicals.

Among those included are Doubleday, Page and Company, McClure, Harper, Ridgeway, Butterick, Leslie, Judge The American Home, The New Idea, The Review of Reviews, Hampton, and Good Housekeeping.

GUGGENHEIMS PLAN TO CONTROL OUTLET FROM ALASKA PORTS

By Securing Harbor Privileges at Controller Bay, Alaska, From Government, Is Charge of Senator Polindexter.—Asks in Investigation.

[BY UNITED PRESS.] Washington, June 27.—That the Guggenheim syndicate in Alaska is not worried over the decision of the interior department that its claims to the Alaska coal lands are not valid, provided it is able to engineer through an application now pending before the department for harbor privileges around Controller Bay, Alaska, was the charge which impelled Senator Miles Polindexter, Republican of Washington, to introduce a sensational resolution in the Senate.

The resolution demands that President Taft produce all records bearing on the Controller Bay, James J. Ryan and others connected with the Controller railroad and navigation company. Polindexter is convinced that if this claim goes through the Guggenheims will control the only feasible outlet for the coal and have the railroads in their grasp.

Before Sugar Inquiry. Washington, June 27.—Joseph F. Smith, head of the Mormon church, today appeared before the Hartwick sugar trust investigating committee to tell what he knows regarding the formation of the Utah-Idaho sugar company. Smith is the first witness to draw an audience of women. Before testifying he asserted he knew nothing about the sugar trust or the thousand shares of stock in the Utah-Idaho company.

Senator Polindexter today introduced a resolution which was immediately passed, calling upon President Taft for information as to an alleged effort of a railroad company to monopolize the water front of Controller Bay, Alaska.

Chicago Children Begin Summer Life Two Hundred Youngsters From Windy City Arrive at Kenosha, Where They Will Stay 'Till October 1st.

CHARGE CONSPIRACY TO RESTRAIN TRADE

Suit Filed in Federal Court Today Against Periodical Clearing House of New York City.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, June 27.—A civil suit was filed with the federal court today for the dissolution of the periodical clearing house on an allegation that it is an unlawful combination and conspiracy to restrain trade in magazines and other periodicals.

Among those included are Doubleday, Page and Company, McClure, Harper, Ridgeway, Butterick, Leslie, Judge The American Home, The New Idea, The Review of Reviews, Hampton, and Good Housekeeping.

DEATHS TO FOLLOW SERIOUS RACE RIOT IN WEST VIRGINIA

Americans and Italians in Fierce Conflict Fatally Injure Eight Men—Sheriff's posse at Scene.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Waverly, W. Va., June 27.—Four Italians are dying and four Americans are in a serious condition today as the result of a race riot between Americans and Italians at a point between Weaver and Junior, West Virginia. The cutting and slashing of an American by an Italian started the riot. A sheriff's posse comprising 90 men, has gone to the scene.

MARKET IS STRONG AFTER THE OPENING

[BY UNITED PRESS.] New York, June 27.—After irregular changes at the opening of the stock market today, a stronger tone developed, many issues showing marked improvement.

TODAY'S CHICAGO MARKETS.

Chicago, June 27.

Cattle receipts, 2,500.

Market, steady.

Beef, 4.75@5.75.

Cows and heifers, 2.25@4.25.

Stocks and feeders, 3.15@5.35.

Calves, 5.75@8.00.

Hogs, 14,000.

Market, steady.

Light, 6.15@6.55.

Heavy, 6.20@6.50.

Mixed, 6.15@6.55.

Pigs, 5.45@6.30.

Tough, 6.00@6.20.

Sheep, 15,000.

Market, steady.

Western, 2.40@4.15.

Natives, 2.25@4.15.

Lamb, 3.75@6.85.

Wheat.

July—Opening, 89; high, 91; low, 88 1/2; closing, 90 1/2.

Sept.—Opening, 88 1/2; high, 90 1/2; low, 87 1/2; closing, 90 1/2.

Closing—90 1/2.

Barley.

Closing—80 1/2.

Oats.

July—13 1/2.

Sept.—11 1/2.

Corn.

July—37 1/2.

Sept.—50.

Poultry.

Hens, live—12 1/2@13.

Butter.

Creamery—22.

Dairy—21.

Eggs.

Extra—11 1/2.

Potatoes.

Wis.—1.00@1.10.

Mich.—1.00@1.10.

New—2.10@2.16.

Live Stock Quotations.

Chicago, June 27.

CATTLE—Good to prime heifers, $4.00@4.75; fair to good heifers, $3.25@4.00; common to fair heifers, $2.50@3.25; inferior heifers, $1.00@1.75; fair to fancy yearlings, $3.00@3.50; good to choice cows, $3.00@3.25; common to fair cows, $2.50@3.00; inferior cows, $1.50@2.50; good to choice steers, $3.25@3.50; common to fair steers, $2.50@3.00; inferior steers, $1.50@2.50; good to choice calves, $3.25@3.50; common to fair calves, $2.50@3.00; inferior calves, $1.50@2.50; good to choice hogs, $4.00@4.25; common to fair hogs, $3.25@4.00; inferior hogs, $2.50@3.25; good to choice pigs, $3.25@3.50; common to fair pigs, $2.50@3.25; inferior pigs, $1.50@2.50.

PRIME HEAVY BUTCHERS, 20@22.

PRIME LIGHT BUTCHERS, 20@22.

CHOICE LIGHT BUTCHERS, 20@22.

CHOICE PORK, 20@22.

CHOICE BEEF, 20@22.

CHOICE LAMB, 20@22.

CHOICE VEAL, 20@22.

CHOICE CHICKEN, 20@22.

CHOICE TURKEY, 20@22.

CHOICE DUCK, 20@22.

CHOICE GOOSE, 20@22.

CHOICE CORN, 20@22.

CHOICE WHEAT, 20@22.

INVESTIGATION OF TEXTBOOK TRUST

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE WILL CONDUCT PROBE OF ALLEGED SCHOOL BOOK COMBINE.

COMPETITION STIFLED

Is One of the Allegations Made in Resolution Concurring in by Senate Today—Attack Made on Lobbyists in Assembly

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., June 27.—An investigation of the alleged school book trust, said to have ramifications throughout the United States, will be made in Wisconsin.

The senate today concurred in a resolution, recently passed by the house, creating a joint legislative committee to investigate the alleged activities of the "trust" in this state regarding the fixing of prices, the stifling of competition in bidding for book contracts and the prohibition of the use of any except certain textbooks.

The committee will make its report to the next legislative assembly and will advise as to the necessity for a state book commission and the uniformity of textbooks used in all state institutions.

Attack on Lobbyists. The assembly today adopted a resolution calling upon the attorney general to proceed against lobbyists who have lately appeared in the legislature without registering, as required by law. The resolution was at once messaged to the senate.

On Sunday Closing. The senate today concurred in a resolution to permit Assemblyman Bickler to introduce a bill modifying the "Sunday closing" law recently enacted.

The state accident insurance commission was refused permission by the senate to employ expert help without consulting the state civil service commission.

An emergency hospital on the state fair grounds at Milwaukee was provided for by the house, it passing a bill appropriating $3,000 for the purpose. Other bills passed by the assembly provide for the transferring of the State Industrial commission to the department of labor and the prohibiting of the railroad companies from increasing railroad fares in particular above the present scale.

The senate adopted a joint resolution on the death of former state senator J. H. Stout of Monmouth, Wis.

ASK FOR 'RELIC' OF BATTLESHIP MAINE

Milwaukee Museum Will Undoubtedly Ask Government for Fragment of Ship.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 27.—Officials of the Milwaukee Museum today said that they had practically decided to request the United States government for a relic of the battleship Maine after it is raised in Havana harbor.

Ohio Teachers in Session. Cedar Point, O., June 27.—At the opening session of the sixty-fourth annual meeting of the Ohio State Teachers' Association, being held here at this time, the following addresses were delivered: "Intellectual Habits," by President H. H. Williams, superintendent of the schools of Sandusky; "The City High School," by E. D. Lyon, principal of Woodward High School, Cincinnati; and "The Township High School," by W. S. Sackett, township school superintendent of Mt. Cory. In the afternoon session rural school problems were discussed. The evening will be devoted to receptions and other social features.

HEAT CAUSES DEATH OF VALUABLE STEER

Valuable Cattle Belonging to George W. Yahn, Died From Sunstroke Saturday Afternoon.

Saturday afternoon a valuable steer belonging to George W. Yahn, the latest in the herd at the slaughter house was found dead from sunstroke, with its horns caught in the wire of the fence surrounding the yard.

When first found, it was thought that the animal had been struck by a stray bullet from a hunter, but a careful examination failed to reveal any signs of such injury. As no marks could be found on it, it is thought that the steer suffered a sunstroke, which dazed it so that it was unable to stand. As it staggered about the enclosure its horns became entangled in the fence wire and although the wire was quite loose, was unable to free itself, and died there. Such an accident is quite peculiar, for it is very unusual for an animal to receive a sunstroke.

Carnival At Niagara Falls. Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 27.—Large crowds of visitors have been attracted to this picturesque city to witness the second International Carnival, with which the summer season at Niagara was formally opened today. The carnival, which is planned to last two days, opened this morning with a military parade. The evening program from the first day includes an "illuminated" automobile parade and a regatta. On the second day will be held the parade of the school children and there will be aeroplane flights and other attractions.

COUNCIL HELD LONG SESSION AND MUCH WORK WAS FINISHED

BUSINESS OF REGULAR SESSION HANDLED WITH DISPATCH. MANY MATTERS RECEIVING ATTENTION.

56 LICENSES GRANTED

Eight Druggists Also Given Permits—Interurban Franchise Granting Further Rights And Privileges to Deloit, Delavan Lake And Janesville Railway Passed.

In a session lasting two hours and a half last evening, the common council at its regular meeting, disposed of a large amount of business and after the recess when there was some discussion over the proposal of the Janesville Electric Company to furnish the ornamental street lights and ordinance granting the Deloit, Delavan Lake & Janesville Railway Company further privileges, the work of the session was carried through with little difficulty and a pronounced absence of some of the exchange of personalities, which marked some of the first gatherings of the city fathers.

Fifty-six saloon licenses and eight druggist permits were granted by the council last evening. The ordinance granting the Deloit, Delavan Lake & Janesville Railway Company further rights and privileges on North Main street from the intersection of Main and Milwaukee streets to Prospect avenue was passed, one ordinance regarding a "Sanitary Fourth" was killed, and another to prevent the blocking of North High street by the passenger depot was laid over for two weeks. The sale of the Fourth avenue bridge bonds was authorized.

Liquor Licenses. Fifty-five applications for saloon licenses and three applications from brewery companies for licenses were originally filed, making the number two more than is allowed by law. The difficulty, however, was solved for the city fathers by the withdrawal of the application of F. E. Luebke and the failure of E. W. Miller to file his bond for $500 with the city clerk. This brought the number within the required limits. Luebke's bond money was ordered paid back to him.

Licenses were granted to the following applicants at the addresses given below:

- James Sheridan, 18 South River street; Charles Munson, 511 West Thomas; Thomas Rowland, 14 South River; Carl Hosen, 131 East Milwaukee; J. E. Reaney, 325 West Milwaukee; John E. Karberg, 15 North Franklin; George Larkin, 51 North Franklin; T. P. Moran, 205 West Milwaukee; Wendell Schneider, 23 North Academy; J. W. Henning and James Hyman, 612 West Milwaukee; William Miller, 105 North Main; J. E. Gakey, 15 North Academy; L. B. Connors, 208 West Milwaukee; P. J. Kane, 118 East Exchange; L. E. Williams, 500 West Milwaukee; P. J. McKelzie, 421 West Milwaukee; Philip Reus, 9 North River; Anna McNeil, 104 East Milwaukee; T. S. Thomsen, 14 East Milwaukee; R. E. Sawyer, 71 South River; Tim McKelzie, 21 South Main; August Luebke, 51 South River; Charles Dick, 100 West Milwaukee; George Doherty, 72 South River; W. C. English, 103 North First; Philip Sheridan, 623 West Main; E. M. Dornady, 210 West Milwaukee; Thomas F. Skogel, 10 South River; Thomas F. McKelzie, 107 East Milwaukee; W. A. Kilpin, 413 West Milwaukee; John Chace, 405 West Milwaukee; Bert Van Houten and Maurice Dalton, 117 West Milwaukee; Fred Rau, 512 West Milwaukee; Thomas F. Abbott, 21 South Main; John Flannery, 23 West Milwaukee; Charles Carpenter, 101 North Academy; A. A. Hartman, 13 North Franklin; George Rindendorf and Gus Hill, 105 East Milwaukee; Herman Huges, 21 South River; Albert Tenbert, 20 North Franklin; Harry Van Gilder, 12 North Main; James Black and W. A. Brown, 12 East Milwaukee; L. F. Connors, 214 West Milwaukee; J. A. Hanawalt, 112 West Milwaukee; John Holmer, 11 North Main; Patrick J. Riber, 229 West Milwaukee; Louis Brummet, 56 South River; G. W. Hunt, 301 West Milwaukee; Frank McShane, 500 West Milwaukee; R. P. Finley, 22 South River; Paul Bahr, 109 North First; John Gund Brewing Co., 615 North Franklin; Val Blatz Brewing Company, 606 West Main; Scholtz Brewing Company, 614 West Main.

Druggist Permits. Eight permits to druggists to vend liquor upon physicians prescriptions were granted last evening. Harry E. Bonous, William Fleming, William F. McCue, C. F. C. Behling, Ed. O. Smith, W. T. Shorer, George E. King and J. P. Huber, being given the privilege.

Fourth Avenue Bridge. By a special act of the legislature, recently passed, and which was especially intended to benefit Janesville, authorization was given any city of the third class to issue bonds up to and in excess of $20,000 in any one year for the construction of a bridge across a stream. This removed the obstacle in the way of the construction of the new bridge across Fourth avenue.

At last night's meeting a resolution was passed authorizing the sale of the Fourth Avenue bridge bonds by city officials, at not less than four and a half per cent interest. This is the first step toward the realization of the plan to construct a new bridge. A resolution was also introduced approving of the bonds and contract of the Central States Bridge Company of Indianapolis, and authorizing the Mayor and City Clerk to sign the contract for the city, but it was deemed best to wait until the bonds had been sold.

"Sanitary Fourth". A communication from the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, requesting the council to take some action to bring about a "safe and sane Fourth" signed by the members of the chapter, was read at last evening's session and Mayor Nichols presented to Alderman Buchholz an ordinance, which he had received prohibiting the sale of large fireworks and other dangerous Fourth of July fireworks, including the dynamite canes and toy pistols. The mayor stated that the ordinance was a copy of the state law, which goes into effect on July 2, but in order to safeguard against any accidents previous to the time the law went into effect the ordinance was given him and was recommended by the committee in charge of the Fourth of July celebration. Alderman Buchholz presented the ordinance and it was given its first and second reading. After the reading of the ordinance there was some discussion as to whether or not local merchants would be affected by having a large supply of fireworks in their hands which they would not, if the ordinance were passed be able to dispose of and Alderman Buchholz advised voting against the measure on those grounds. Mayor Nichols reminded the council that it was up to them to decide whether they should or the merchants, to suffer a loss of a few dollars or endanger the lives of the little children. The third reading of the ordinance was called for and it was placed on passage and was killed, by a seven to three vote. Aldermen Dulin, Donahue and Council voting for the passage of the ordinance.

The proposal of the Janesville Electric Company to furnish ornamental street lights in the business district of the city, was presented at the meeting and read. Further time to report on the matter was asked by Alderman Donahue of the lighting committee and his request was granted.

Street Matters. Reports of the street assessment committee on the resurfacing of North Jackson street from Milwaukee street to the railroad tracks; of Washington street from Mineral Point avenue to the city limits and of Center Avenue from Pleasant street to Riverside street, were presented by Alderman Sheridan and accepted. Orders for resurfacing Jackson street and Center Avenue with crushed stone were passed, but Sheridan's motion to grade and resurface and improve with gravel and gutter on Washington street from Mineral Point Avenue to the end of the street was laid over. Immediately after the order was introduced Alderman Evans entered an objection to putting in the curb and gutter the entire length of the street, saying that such had not been agreed upon by the streets assessment committee and that the curb and gutter was to be extended to Magnolia Avenue. Alderman Schindler also spoke against running the curb and gutter the entire length of the street. Sheridan, however, held for the original order. An amendment was offered to the order to read that the curb and gutter should extend only to Magnolia Avenue. The vote for the amendment resulted in a tie, but the mayor decided the vote on the amendment by voting no. The vote on the original order was again a tie and the mayor cast his vote for the order as introduced. "Just to show how I stand," said the mayor, "a two thirds motion, however, was necessary for the passage of the curb and gutter were ordered at the corner of Center Avenue and Pleasant street and on Cornelia street from Prospect Avenue to Glen street. The placing of curb and gutter about the triangle park at the intersection of Lincoln and South High streets, was also ordered and the street assessment committee was directed to award the contract for the work.

To prevent the blocking of traffic on North High street at the passenger depot of the R. Paul road an ordinance was introduced by Alderman Schindler to prohibit teams, automobiles and other vehicles standing on that portion of the street, between the northwestern side of the tracks of the St. Paul Company and the passenger depot, from obstructing the passage of the ordinance, providing a penalty of from one to twenty-five dollars. The ordinance brought forth some discussion, several holding that it was unfair to those who had business at the depot and had to back their wagons or carriages in through that portion of the street. The ordinance was finally laid over for two weeks.

Sewer Contract Awarded. The report of the street assessment committee on sewer work to be done in the city this year, in Districts No. 3, 4, 11, 15, and 16, and recommending that the contract be awarded to "They Bros. of Dubuque, Ia., on their bid of $11,925.07 for the entire job, was accepted, thus awarding the contract. About three miles of sewer are to be laid in the city this year.

The city engineer was ordered to draw plans and specifications showing the location and size and the kind and quality of material to be used for the construction of lateral sewers and the position of gas and water service pipes on North Main street, from Milwaukee street to Fourth avenue, and on North Academy street, from Milwaukee street to the Northwestern railway tracks. The street commissioner was directed to build temporary catch basins on North River street to take care of the excess water, which the storm sewer could not carry off.

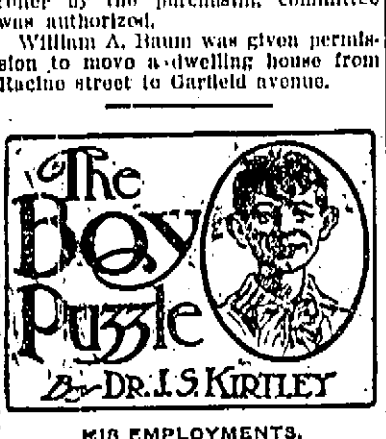

At a recent meeting the aldermen of the Third Ward were authorized to inspect the Main street bridge at Spring Brook and report on the matter, as it was thought to be unsafe for travel. Alderman Shurtliff last night introduced an order that the plug under the bridge be repaired.

The street assessment committee was given directions last evening to look into the matter of securing crushed stone for the work on the streets with authority to enter into contracts for securing the material or opening the stone crusher plant. The city clerk was instructed to renew the insurance on the plant for $1,000.

Interurbans were given the "street commissioners" to serve sidewalk patios on property owners in the third and fourth wards, and he was given orders to build brick crosswalks on certain streets in those sections of the city.

Bills for the month and the salary list for June were allowed and the payment of $22.50 to Ben Burdige as driver of the patrol wagon was ordered paid out of the Fire and Water Fund. Mayor Nichols' appointments of Dennis McGinley, William Dulin, Ed. Hadden and C. U. Fisher as special police for street duty were confirmed and the sum of two dollars each for their services was ordered paid. The bond and oath of Oscar H. Hand, second hand dealer and stilling papers filed by A. W. Huggs, street commissioner in the Fourth ward, were accepted.

The purchase of two dozen new plugs for the large wheels of the steam roller by the purchasing committee was authorized. William A. Haum was given permission to move a dwelling house from Racine street to Garfield avenue.

His EMPLOYMENTS.

His sports form one kind of exercise but are not what we call employment. Some of his employments he turns into sports, some of the time; but usually they are work, nothing but work.

There are three reasons why he must have some employment. One is that he gets discipline by it, in industry, in the adaptation of means to ends, in forethought, in continuity and in self mastery. Again that is the way he is getting ready for his career, for those are the very qualities he must have when he gets out into his life work; and he must get them started, as habits, at the habit making time of his life. Two things are required—character and efficiency; and he is getting them, by means of his work. The third reason is that his services are indispensable in the home, even though his parents are rich enough to hire everything they want done. A servant cannot put the spirit of a son into his work and a child can be a partner. Yet his work is more important to him than to the rest of the family.

Hardships and obstacles are a distinct advantage to him. Two mistakes are often made. On the one hand, too much may be done for him and so little through him and in partnership with him, that he will grow up without any sense of responsibility to anybody for anything; on the other hand so little interest may be taken in what he is compelled to do that his work will seem entirely unrelated to his own interests.

Three characteristics of his work are essential. It must be regular and definite. Even if it is a medley of disconnected chores, each must have its own place in the day's schedule and he will be growing in the virtue of system and order, anyhow.

His work also must be congenial, as far as possible. His aptitudes are to be studied and considered. We know how much that means. Handel's father wanted to make a lawyer of him, and would not let him do some things which his talents demanded that he should do. Michael Angelo's father tried to put him into a government position. They wanted him to stop watching the tea kettle altogether and do more practical things; and he was willing to help around the house, if they would only let him study the tea kettle some.

While the ideal of all work is that it shall be so congenial that he will always delight in it, sometimes it is sure to be irksome. Those for whom he works or the aims he has in work must so excite his interest that he will be glad to do even disagreeable things. And even then he is not an angel.

His work must be in some degree remunerative. He wants to see that he gets something for it. Often he wants no more than the pleasure of helping. That reward he must always have.

If there is no form of interest, it will be only eye service. Duty may demand work, but he is at cross purposes with duty. Co-operative partnership is most congenial to him. That appeals to his self respect, enlightens him about family interests and needs, and it gives him an unselfish interest in others besides himself.

But it is of the highest importance that he receive some of the rewards in order to gratify his sense of ownership and his sense of right and to secure the uncoerced action of his will. The sharing may be in indirect ways. Even when his part goes back into the common funds for family support, he is willing, provided he can be credited with being deliberately in the combine.

His ownership of his earnings is to be recognized, though he is not to be left without instructions as to the way he should handle it. Habits of thrift and economy may be taught both in the work done and in the care taken of his possessions.

Even employment with hobbies is of benefit, as it develops special tastes and sometimes fits him for special work in the future. In future years he is apt to find in the memory of those hobbies a source of recreation and amusement. One boy of my acquaintance went into the white rabbit industry and paid expenses, while getting in large returns of pleasure and information and sympathy with animal life. Another one went into photography, while a little gang, near by, studied wireless telegraphy. Drawing, ceramic work, sketching, music, vocal and instrumental, have given boys lots of pleasure and profit.

He must be guarded against some very definite perils. He is in danger of capitalizing his value to the family and thereby growing hard and selfish. Vanity and self-importance will kill kindness and prevent the fullest enjoyment of his rewards. He must be given an opportunity for the exercise of his power of initiative and forethought. He must be invited into the council chamber and be given a hearing, as a junior, in the enterprises in which he is to be a participant. Perhaps he can be easily taught that he is to put forth those powers which he will need in his future work. Thus he will be growing in the virtues of self-knowledge and self-direction.

LIMA. Lima, June 27.—Mrs. Templeton has been entertaining her niece from Edgerton of late. Miss Claribel Cummings went to Milwaukee Saturday night to spend some with her aunt. Mr. Glendon was in Broadhead Saturday. Mrs. Moore of Palmyra was in town Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Hart Collins were visitors in Milton Jet. Sunday. Some of our young men fished at Koshkonong Saturday. Mrs. Gentle Kenton and daughter, left on Friday for their future home near Kansas City. Orta Gould spent Saturday in Milwaukee.

Town Board met on Wednesday. John Waldman and one of the boys, came up from Janesville on Sunday and attended the children's day exercises in the afternoon. Miss Beadle Richmond was home from Janesville over Sunday. Mrs. G. E. Fuller is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Deshaun, at Shenington. Frank Dowers spent between trains with his parents Sunday evening. School meeting next Wednesday night. Miss Beulah McComb is spending the week with relatives at Six Corners.

SOUTH MAGNOLIA. South Magnolia, June 27.—Mrs. Geo. McCaslin and daughter, Maggie, planned a surprise on Mr. McCaslin last Wednesday evening and invited a few of their friends to spend the evening. A pleasant time is reported. James Houghton was a Broadhead visitor Saturday. Mrs. Walter Wolcott is still curing for Mrs. J. Houghton. Elliot Praser and family spent Wednesday evening in Footville.

BROADHEAD. Broadhead, June 27.—Miss Mildred Olsen left for Newark Monday morning to spend a week with friends. Miss Hilda Bucher was a passenger to Orlenville Monday, for a short stay. Miss Emma Mayens is at Unnover, the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Emerson and family. Miss Julia Larchinger went to Brooklyn Monday to visit with friends. George Hillings was here from Albany on Monday. Miss Gentle visited friends in Beloit on Monday, while her mother, Mrs. Kate Stewart, was visiting her brother, George Bartlett in Albany. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Foster and Chas. Zuercher, Jr., were Sunday visitors in Shullsburg.

Will Hall went to Evansville Monday for a short stay. Engineer and Mrs. Wm. Williams and daughter, Esther left Monday morning for Grayville, Ill., to see his mother. They will also visit other towns. Elmer Swan, Lee Menor, Miss Post, and Messrs. Wm. Dugheret, son, Wm. Hiltz and Carl Clark were visitors at the county seat Monday.

SPRING VALLEY CORNERS. Spring Valley Corners, June 27.—Mrs. Gus Thom, who has been at Mercy Hospital, has returned home much improved in health. Both, went Thursday in Janesville. Mrs. B. T. Miller and Miss Ida Smith have been spending several days with Mrs. Hatlie Caple. Mrs. Margaret Van Sidle and daughter, Marjorie, have been home for a few days visit with her parents. A daughter was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. C. Gempeler. Mrs. Arthur Miller and son, Sterling, were Janesville callers recently. Mr. and Mrs. Will Day were out from Broadhead Sunday. Ed. Lee is working for Eugene Clark. Mrs. George Swanton and son, Jerry, are visiting relatives in Iowa. Miss Ada McCoy of Evansville, is the guest of relatives. Rev. R. Pugh left Saturday for La Crosse, Wis. Mrs. Leonard of Broadhead, is sewing for Mrs. Palmer this week.

Keeping On. The ability to achieve and advance depends upon the determination to go on, when everything says "stop" and when we long to stop. There is nothing spectacular about doggedness. It is just plain keeping on and getting through.—Priscilla Leonard.

LOW ROUND TRIP EXCURSION RATES. To Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, Colo., daily until September 30. Favorable stop-overs. Liberal return limits. For full information, apply to Ticket Agents, The North Western Line.

Remember the Reliable House which is paying the highest prices and honest weight. Hides. Old rubbers, free from acetates and leather, 70c lb.; rags, 5c lb.; heavy brass, 6c to 7c lb.; copper, 8c lb.; good iron, 30c per 100 lbs. S. W. ROTSTEIN IRON CO., 80 S. River St. Rock County phone 1012. Bell 469.

TWO SPECIALS. Apricot Sundae, 10c. Cantaloupe Sundae, A la Mode, 15c.

Razook's Candy Palace. JANESVILLE CHEMICAL Steam Dye Works RUGS CLEANED C.F. BROCKHAUS, Prop.

Trouser Sale. Special prices on men's trousers. Not just as good, but always a little better. A little better in all ways. In our display of Trousers, we are showing fifty patterns besides the following strong points: Belt straps, neat, slightly, properly placed; bottoms accurately finished. Stripes follow the creases; both front and back; bottoms reinforced; reinforcing tape in seat seam, double sewed. The $3.00 trousers will go at $2.48. The $2.50 and $2.25 values go at $1.89. The $1.75 grade go at $1.39. The $1.50 values at $1.19. Buy now.

37 S. Main Street. Hall & Huebel.

ALBANY. Albany, June 26.—Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Currier and three children and Miss Whitmore of Edgerton, passed through here last Wednesday, en route to Winlow, Ill., on a visit to Miss Stiles, who used to teach in the public schools here. Mrs. Currier was formerly Miss Anna Conroy, a teacher in the high school here for a good many years. They returned to their home Saturday, calling on friends here again. P. O. Lane of Madison, spent last week here visiting relatives and friends. Miss Grace Edwards visited in Juda last week. Thos. Dolan spent last week in Dur.ington. Adolph and Garrett, Mohrli attended the automobile races held in Milwaukee last week. Mrs. Walter Tilley and daughter of Galeja, Ill., are visiting relatives here. Miss Anna Kittelsen of Mt. Vernon, visited at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Wm. Mann, last week, returning home Saturday. J. T. Gruenewald made a business trip to Milwaukee last week. Mrs. J. P. Carlo of Janesville, visited Andrew Christopher during the week. George Bishop visited in Monroe during the week and attended the graduation exercises of the Green County Teacher's Training school. Mrs. J. H. Putnam, who left last week for Nebraska to join her husband is expected back tonight, being called here again on account of the breakage of the right arm of her mother, Mrs. Alundra Carver.

Mrs. Sarah Cullen of Clarksville, Iowa, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Alundra Carver. Miss Emma Cronin who has been teaching at Sun Prairie the past year is spending her summer vacation at home. She expects to go back there next year, it being her third year at Sun Prairie. Wm. Lewis and Ray Mankow spent Saturday in Monroe. John Wall and son, Vankow, are working in the county road on the addition of the county farm buildings. Jacob Frel left last Wednesday for Switzerland and expects to be gone several months.

There was a special train both morning and afternoon to meet the Mineral Point train last Friday, on account of the Woodman picnic here. The Chicago Union Giants will play the Albany baseball team here July 8. H. E. Zentner made a business trip to Kansas City last week. Floyd Walmer has sold out his interest in the Ivory barn to T. Canil of Attila. The new firm will be styled Walmer & Canil. George Thurman, Jr., and daughter of Evansville, visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Burton last week. Gurney Hayes, a former resident of this place and Miss Bowen O'Connell of Broadhead, were married in Rockford on the 26th.

The Test. But of the three sorts, namely, those who are born great, those who acquire greatness, and those who have greatness thrust upon them, only the first are anywise certain to know what the different forms are for at the fashionable dinners inevitably given in their honor from time to time.—Puck.

Swinburne and the Cabman. In his youthful days Swinburne had a quarrel with a cabman over his fare. The cabman abused the poet mercilessly. Addressing him Swinburne said: "And may I invite you to descend from your perch and hear how a poet can swear?"

Why? If it is true that the world has gone completely to the bow-wow, and that vice and corruption are in control, why is that our penitentiaries have no more attraction than they do for men who call themselves honest?

Remember the Reliable House which is paying the highest prices and honest weight. Hides. Old rubbers, free from acetates and leather, 70c lb.; rags, 5c lb.; heavy brass, 6c to 7c lb.; copper, 8c lb.; good iron, 30c per 100 lbs. S. W. ROTSTEIN IRON CO., 80 S. River St. Rock County phone 1012. Bell 469.

TWO SPECIALS. Apricot Sundae, 10c. Cantaloupe Sundae, A la Mode, 15c.

Razook's Candy Palace. JANESVILLE CHEMICAL Steam Dye Works RUGS CLEANED C.F. BROCKHAUS, Prop.

Trouser Sale. Special prices on men's trousers. Not just as good, but always a little better. A little better in all ways. In our display of Trousers, we are showing fifty patterns besides the following strong points: Belt straps, neat, slightly, properly placed; bottoms accurately finished. Stripes follow the creases; both front and back; bottoms reinforced; reinforcing tape in seat seam, double sewed. The $3.00 trousers will go at $2.48. The $2.50 and $2.25 values go at $1.89. The $1.75 grade go at $1.39. The $1.50 values at $1.19. Buy now.

37 S. Main Street. Hall & Huebel.

Now, if this hadn't happened, or that, it's as plain as the beam on your hat. We'd have certainly won a walk. Too bad—but it's no use to talk.

Practical Economy. A child in the family of a farmer near Atlanta, Ga., was thought to be fatally ill, and the forehand father bought a coffin for it. To his delight the child recovered. For a time the man knew not what to do with the coffin, but he placed four legs under it and now uses it as a water trough.

Lifelike. "What a noisy thing that brass drum is!" remarked the clarinet, disgustedly. "Yes," replied the trombone, "just like a human being, isn't it?" "Like a human being?" "Yes, it's the one with the big head that makes the most noise."—Scraps.

The Other Way About. A great many make fun of what they do not understand, simply because they do not understand—that does not hurt the thing they poke fun at, but themselves.

If You Can't See Well, See Scholler Office with OLIN & OLSON, Jewelers

Headquarters for All Kinds of Jobbing Cabinet and Carpenter work, Carriage and Wagon Repairing. Estimates cheerfully furnished and all work promptly attended to. Satisfaction guaranteed.

C. J. HAYES, 210 Wall St., opposite City Hall. Phone 1264 red.

For Expert Optical Work consult G. W. GRANT & CO., Jewelers. Successors to Flecks. Opticians.

Simpson's GARMENT STORE

New Silk Dresses For As Little As $10.00

Sit down and count the cost of making and materials, not to speak of time and trouble. Then consider whether it is not better to come here the first thing in the morning for one of these dresses.

Summer Weight Coats at $9.95

These coats are spick and span new, just from the hands of the manufacturer last week. The price is remarkably low at $9.95 each.

Simpson's GARMENT STORE

Hall & Huebel

THE SPORT WORLD.

CORNELL VARSITY CREW.

STRONG ENTRIES IN INTERCOLLEGIATE ROW.
Cornell's 1911 varsity crew which, under the coaching of Courtney, is backed by many rowing experts as a winner in the Poughkeepsie race.

H. DAVIS. BARRY. FRANK BAKER.

ATHLETIC INFILDS RATED FIRST IN GAME.

The Athletic Infield, Harry Davis, Eddie Collins, Jack Barry, and Frank Baker, is recognized as the greatest infield in baseball today, succeeding the wonderful Cub machine of Chance, Evers, Tinker and Steinbock. The old

HARRY LORD

CHARLEY CONISKEY

PING BODIE

SOX HIT CHAMPIONSHIP PAGE.

Chicago, Ill.—Comiskey's White Sox have struck a championship pace. By taking four straight games from the champions they clearly showed their winning ability. This series of victories was followed by victories in the Red Sox. If they can maintain their present speed they will give Detroit a hard run for the present.

Yesterday's Games

Standing of the Clubs.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Clubs.	W. L. P. C.	Clubs.	W. L. P. C.
Chicago	23 11 1	St. Louis	22 12 1
New York	22 12 1	Cincinnati	22 12 1
Philadelphia	21 13 1	Brooklyn	20 14 1
Pittsburgh	20 14 1	Boston	19 15 1
AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Detroit	22 12 1	Boston	22 12 1
Philadelphia	21 13 1	Cleveland	21 13 1
New York	20 14 1	Washington	20 14 1
Chicago	19 15 1	St. Louis	18 16 1
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.
Columbus	21 13 1	Louisville	21 13 1
Kan. City	20 14 1	St. Paul	20 14 1
Altoona	19 15 1	Indianapolis	19 15 1
Shiloh	18 16 1	Toledo	18 16 1
WESTERN LEAGUE.
Omaha	21 13 1	Sioux City	21 13 1
Denver	20 14 1	Lincoln	20 14 1
St. Joseph	19 15 1	St. Paul	19 15 1
CENTRAL LEAGUE.
Dayton	21 13 1	Evansville	21 13 1
Zanesville	20 14 1	Wayne	20 14 1
Ho. Rapids	19 15 1	Shelby	19 15 1
St. Louis	18 16 1	St. Paul	18 16 1
THIRD LEAGUE.
Decatur	21 13 1	Waterloo	21 13 1
Peoria	20 14 1	Davenport	20 14 1
Quincy	19 15 1	Keokuk	19 15 1
Appleton	18 16 1	Urbana	18 16 1
WISCONSIN-ILLINOIS LEAGUE.
Rockford	21 13 1	Madison	21 13 1
Green Bay	20 14 1	La Crosse	20 14 1
Madison	19 15 1	Wausau	19 15 1
Appleton	18 16 1	Urbana	18 16 1

Scores of Monday's Games.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Philadelphia, 5; Boston, 0.
Pittsburgh, 3; Cincinnati, 4.
St. Louis-Chicago, no game scheduled.
Brooklyn-New York, no game; wet grounds.
AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Chicago, 1; Detroit, 4.
St. Louis-Cleveland, no game; wet grounds.
New York, 3; Washington, 1.
Boston, 2; Philadelphia, 3.
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.
Toledo, 3; St. Paul, 8 (first game); Toledo, 1; St. Paul, 8 (second game).
Columbus, 4; Kansas City, 6 (first game); Columbus, 1; Kansas City, 2 (second game).
Indianapolis, 4; Milwaukee, 5.
Louisville-Minneapolis, no game; wet grounds.
THIRD LEAGUE.
Quincy, 2; Decatur, 2 (12 innings, called; darkness).
Peoria, 3; Waterloo, 11.
Davenport, 4; Peoria, 6.
Rock Island, 1; Davenport, 6.
CENTRAL LEAGUE.
Wheeling, 3; Grand Rapids, 1 (first game); Wheeling, 1; Grand Rapids, 2 (second game).
Fort Wayne, 4; Evansville, 0 (first game); Fort Wayne, 2; Evansville, 1 (second game).
No other games scheduled.
WESTERN LEAGUE.
St. Joe, 2; Denver, 1.
Tapscott, 4; Des Moines, 0.
Sioux City, 4; Lincoln, 3.
Peoria, 7; Omaha, 5.
WISCONSIN-ILLINOIS LEAGUE.
No games scheduled.

FUNERAL OF D. H. NEIPLING WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Afternoon At Two O'clock From the Residence of Elton Stone, Person- al News From Edgerton.

Edgerton, June 27.—The funeral of the late D. H. Neipling, who died here Sunday evening, will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the residence of Elton Stone, Rev. G. K. Mac Intire, pastor of the M. E. church will conduct the services at the house and the Masonic order at the grave. The deceased also was a prominent member of the G. A. R. of his home town in Pinney, Ohio, in consequence of which the local post and the W. R. C. will turn out in a body. Interment will be made in Forest cemetery.

Personal Mention.
Relatives here have received word of the departure Sunday of Mrs. John Walter, landlady of the Portland hotel at Oregon, Dane County, for her native home in England on a visit to her aged mother. Friends and former old neighbors here wish her a pleasant voyage and a safe return.
The new residence of William Hemphill in the McIntosh addition in the north part of the city, is fast approaching completion and this week will finish the plastering by M. H. Cunningham. The structure is one of the largest in the city and will have all modern improvements.

George R. Tondy came this morning from Beloit to spend the day with his mother, Mrs. Juliet Tondy and other members of the family.

J. W. Dawson went to Milwaukee this morning on business.

J. J. Leary is off on a business trip to Madison today.

Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Schuchtschneider, residing one mile southeast of the city, on Sunday celebrated his 20th birthday. A pleasant company of gentlemen friends from this city were in attendance and enjoyed the occasion to the full extent.

An excellent spread was partaken of. Messrs. George Dahlmann, Sanford Gurnee and Carl Plantz entertained the occasion with music.

Two weddings will take place here tomorrow, one at six o'clock and the other at three o'clock, both taking place at the German Lutheran church.

J. J. Leary spent Monday in Stoughton on business.

James Symes, day clerk at the Carlton hotel, returned last night from a few days' stay in Chicago.

Miss Eva Hutson is enjoying a vacation of two weeks from her duties at the department store.

Misses Olga Hanson and Annetta Larson went to Hampshire, Ill., Saturday on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leitner. The former returned Monday evening, while Miss Larson will remain for a more extended visit with her sister.

Guests registered at the Carlton hotel Monday were: W. A. Stendel, L. E. Hookout, Jansville; Chas. Thompson, Ed. Grindheim, Chas. Coleman, Madison; J. Treckheim, C. E. Gibson, George H. Schmitt, H. C. Gibson, N. Albersson, Milwaukee; W. C. Brown, M. M. Meyer, F. S. Osborn and wife, E. T. Wilson, A. H. Davis, George Koster, H. M. Spencer, E. C. Carey, Chicago; C. H. Williamson, Boston; F. S. Pinney, J. P. Kittibrow, Washington, D. C.

Saved the Shamrock.
Michael Donnelly, twenty-two, an Irish immigrant quarantined in Cleveland, O., for smallpox, when told that all of his personal effects must be burned, succeeded in inducing the health officials to exempt a shamrock he had brought with him.

CLINTON.

Clinton, June 26.—Mrs. John Nelson and daughter, Emma, of Newark, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Henry, north of town, returned home Saturday morning.

Mrs. R. E. Green and son, Robert Johnson of Walworth, spent Sunday here at the home of Mrs. Green's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Bales, Rev. C. P. Olson occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday morning.

Hubert L. Larson returned from St. Olaf's college in Minnesota, Friday night.

Miss Edna Woolston returned home Saturday morning from Chippewa Falls.

Miss Ruth Stoney went to Madison, Saturday.

Mrs. N. Vanderlyn is reported as improving very rapidly from her fall down the cellar stairs.

Only three of our Y. M. C. A. boys are going to Phantom lake, this year, for two weeks' outing at the Wisconsin boy's Y. M. C. A. camp. They are: Donald Harris, Phillip Lawson, and Homer Kizer. There is monthly a much larger number that go from here.

Miss Lulu Snyder spent Sunday with her sister in Jansville.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Woodward accompanied Mrs. Woodward's mother, Mrs. Turner, of Anderson, Indiana, as far as Chicago, upon her return home. The United Workers of the Congregational church will be entertained by Mrs. L. Seaman, Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. A. S. Parker, accompanied by Mrs. Edeline L. C. Hatch and C. S. Crandall went over to Delavan lake, Saturday evening, in the doctor's auto, and brought Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Heron home, who have been staying two weeks at their cottage there.

Mrs. E. W. Bruce and granddaughter, Myrtle Adams, left Friday evening for Minneapolis to visit Mrs. Bruce's sister. They expect to be gone about three or four weeks.

CAINVILLE CENTER.
Cainville Center, June 26.—E. B. Arnold arrived home Saturday, having spent the week at Watertown.

The Messrs. C. C. Howard, W. B. Andrew and B. T. Andrew spent Friday fishing at Alton.

Miss Bowden attended the camp meeting at Watertown last week. A large crowd attended the musical-luncheon given Friday evening at the home of Frank Chase for Mr. and Mrs. Louis Woodstock.

O. L. Townsend returned to his home in Chicago, Saturday. Mrs. Townsend and daughter will remain another week.

Elliott Fraser and family spent Sunday at Dell Townsend's and Walter Thompson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Howard Sunday at Will Rowland's.

Geo. Brigham is taking stock at the station today.

There was a meeting of the town board Monday.

The weekly A. C. prayer meeting will be held at the parsonage.

The Helper's Union will meet Thursday the 29th, with Mrs. E. B. Arnold. Lizzie Bennett is caring for the sick at the home of Mr. Reese, west of Evansville.

Elmer Townsend was out from Jansville to see his father, Sunday.

Forced Upon Them.
It is reported that whiskers are coming back into style.

"That is probably due to the arrival of the trousers-skirt."

"What has the trousers-skirt to do with whiskers?"

"The men must have some way of keeping themselves from looking like women."

ONLY 4 DAYS MORE OF THE Re-Modeling Sale

Look at These Prices:

Hand Bags

Real leather and real leather lined, change purses, overlapping frame . . . $9c

Suit Case Umbrellas

American Taffeta cover, taped edge, folding tip, detachable handles, . . . $9c

Wash Dresses

For children at . . . 25c
In ginghams, lawns and percales at . . . 49c, 69c, 98c, $1.19

The most perfect fitting.
For Ladies and Misses, sizes, 13, 15, 17, 19, 21, 23, 25, 27, 29, 31, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 49, 51, 53, 55, 57, 59, 61, 63, 65, 67, 69, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, 83, 85, 87, 89, 91, 93, 95, 97, 99, 101, 103, 105, 107, 109, 111, 113, 115, 117, 119, 121, 123, 125, 127, 129, 131, 133, 135, 137, 139, 141, 143, 145, 147, 149, 151, 153, 155, 157, 159, 161, 163, 165, 167, 169, 171, 173, 175, 177, 179, 181, 183, 185, 187, 189, 191, 193, 195, 197, 199, 201, 203, 205, 207, 209, 211, 213, 215, 217, 219, 221, 223, 225, 227, 229, 231, 233, 235, 237, 239, 241, 243, 245, 247, 249, 251, 253, 255, 257, 259, 261, 263, 265, 267, 269, 271, 273, 275, 277, 279, 281, 283, 285, 287, 289, 291, 293, 295, 297, 299, 301, 303, 305, 307, 309, 311, 313, 315, 317, 319, 321, 323, 325, 327, 329, 331, 333, 335, 337, 339, 341, 343, 345, 347, 349, 351, 353, 355, 357, 359, 361, 363, 365, 367, 369, 371, 373, 375, 377, 379, 381, 383, 385, 387, 389, 391, 393, 395, 397, 399, 401, 403, 405, 407, 409, 411, 413, 415, 417, 419, 421, 423, 425, 427, 429, 431, 433, 435, 437, 439, 441, 443, 445, 447, 449, 451, 453, 455, 457, 459, 461, 463, 465, 467, 469, 471, 473, 475, 477, 479, 481, 483, 485, 487, 489, 491, 493, 495, 497, 499, 501, 503, 505, 507, 509, 511, 513, 515, 517, 519, 521, 523, 525, 527, 529, 531, 533, 535, 537, 539, 541, 543, 545, 547, 549, 551, 553, 555, 557, 559, 561, 563, 565, 567, 569, 571, 573, 575, 577, 579, 581, 583, 585, 587, 589, 591, 593, 595, 597, 599, 601, 603, 605, 607, 609, 611, 613, 615, 617, 619, 621, 623, 625, 627, 629, 631, 633, 635, 637, 639, 641, 643, 645, 647, 649, 651, 653, 655, 657, 659, 661, 663, 665, 667, 669, 671, 673, 675, 677, 679, 681, 683, 685, 687, 689, 691, 693, 695, 697, 699, 701, 703, 705, 707, 709, 711, 713, 715, 717, 719, 721, 723, 725, 727, 729, 731, 733, 735, 737, 739, 741, 743, 745, 747, 749, 751, 753, 755, 757, 759, 761, 763, 765, 767, 769, 771, 773, 775, 777, 779, 781, 783, 785, 787, 789, 791, 793, 795, 797, 799, 801, 803, 805, 807, 809, 811, 813, 815, 817, 819, 821, 823, 825, 827, 829, 831, 833, 835, 837, 839, 841, 843, 845, 847, 849, 851, 853, 855, 857, 859, 861, 863, 865, 867, 869, 871, 873, 875, 877, 879, 881, 883, 885, 887, 889, 891, 893, 895, 897, 899, 901, 903, 905, 907, 909, 911, 913, 915, 917, 919, 921, 923, 925, 927, 929, 931, 933, 935, 937, 939, 941, 943, 945, 947, 949, 951, 953, 955, 957, 959, 961, 963, 965, 967, 969, 971, 973, 975, 977, 979, 981, 983, 985, 987, 989, 991, 993, 995, 997, 999, 1001, 1003, 1005, 1007, 1009, 1011, 1013, 1015, 1017, 1019, 1021, 1023, 1025, 1027, 1029, 1031, 1033, 1035, 1037, 1039, 1041, 1043, 1045, 1047, 1049, 1051, 1053, 1055, 1057, 1059, 1061, 1063, 1065, 1067, 1069, 1071, 1073, 1075, 1077, 1079, 1081, 1083, 1085, 1087, 1089, 1091, 1093, 1095, 1097, 1099, 1101, 1103, 1105, 1107, 1109, 1111, 1113, 1115, 1117, 1119, 1121, 1123, 1125, 1127, 1129, 1131, 1133, 1135, 1137, 1139, 1141, 1143, 1145, 1147, 1149, 1151, 1153, 1155, 1157, 1159, 1161, 1163, 1165, 1167, 1169, 1171, 1173, 1175, 1177, 1179, 1181, 1183, 1185, 1187, 1189, 1191, 1193, 1195, 1197, 1199, 1201, 1203, 1205, 1207, 1209, 1211, 1213, 1215, 1217, 1219, 1221, 1223, 1225, 1227, 1229, 1231, 1233, 1235, 1237, 1239, 1241, 1243, 1245, 1247, 1249, 1251, 1253, 1255, 1257, 1259, 1261, 1263, 1265, 1267, 1269, 1271, 1273, 1275, 1277, 1279, 1281, 1283, 1285, 1287, 1289, 1291, 1293, 1295, 1297, 1299, 1301, 1303, 1305, 1307, 1309, 1311, 1313, 1315, 1317, 1319, 1321, 1323, 1325, 1327, 1329, 1331, 1333, 1335, 1337, 1339, 1341, 1343, 1345, 1347, 1349, 1351, 1353, 1355, 1357, 1359, 1361, 1363, 1365, 1367, 1369, 1371, 1373, 1375, 1377, 1379, 1381, 1383, 1385, 1387, 1389, 1391, 1393, 1395, 1397, 1399, 1401, 1403, 1405, 1407, 1409, 1411, 1413, 1415, 1417, 1419, 1421, 1423, 1425, 1427, 1429, 1431, 1433, 1435, 1437, 1439, 1441, 1443, 1445, 1447, 1449, 1451, 1453, 1455, 1457, 1459, 1461, 1463, 1465, 1467, 1469, 1471, 1473, 1475, 1477, 1479, 1481, 1483, 1485, 1487, 1489, 1491, 1493, 1495, 1497, 1499, 1501, 1503, 1505, 1507, 1509, 1511, 1513, 1515, 1517, 1519, 1521, 1523, 1525, 1527, 1529, 1531, 1533, 1535, 1537, 1539, 1541, 1543, 1545, 1547, 1549, 1551, 1553, 1555, 1557, 1559, 1561, 1563, 1565, 1567, 1569, 1571, 1573, 1575, 1577, 1579, 1581, 1583, 1585, 1587, 1589, 1591, 1593, 1595, 1597, 1599, 1601, 1603, 1605, 1607, 1609, 1611, 1613, 1615, 1617, 1619, 1621, 1623, 1625, 1627, 1629, 1631, 1633, 1635, 1637, 1639, 1641, 1643, 1645, 1647, 1649, 1651, 1653, 1655, 1657, 1659, 1661, 1663, 1665, 1667, 1669, 1671, 1673, 1675, 1677, 1679, 1681, 1683, 1685, 1687, 1689, 1691, 1693, 1695, 1697, 1699, 1701, 1703, 1705, 1707, 1709, 1711, 1713, 1715, 1717, 1719, 1721, 1723, 1725, 1727, 1729, 1731, 1733, 1735, 1737, 1739, 1741, 1743, 1745, 1747, 1749, 1751, 1753, 1755, 1757, 1759, 1761, 1763, 1765, 1767, 1769, 1771, 1773, 1775, 1777, 1779, 1781, 1783, 1785, 1787, 1789, 1791, 1793, 1795, 1797, 1799, 1801, 1803, 1805, 1807, 1809, 1811, 1813, 1815, 1817, 1819, 1821, 1823, 1825, 1827, 1829, 1831, 1833, 1835, 1837, 1839,

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-204 E. Milwaukee St.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS.

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Daily Edition by Carrier

One Month, cash in advance, $1.00

One Year, cash in advance, $10.00

Six Months, cash in advance, $5.00

Daily Edition by Mail

One Year, cash in advance, $10.00

Six Months, cash in advance, $5.00

Weekly Edition, One Year, $2.00

Editorial Rooms, 200-204 E. Milwaukee St.

Business Office, 200-204 E. Milwaukee St.

Printing Dept., 200-204 E. Milwaukee St.

Circulation Dept., 200-204 E. Milwaukee St.

Rock Co., lines can be interchanged for all departments.

GASSETTE PUBLISHING CO.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair tonight and Wednesday, cooler in south and east.

GAZETTE MAY CIRCULATION.

Sworn circulation statement of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette circulation for May, 1911.

DAILY.

Days. Copies. Days. Copies.

1. 185116 185116

2. 185117 185117

3. 185118 185118

4. 185119 185119

5. 185120 185120

6. 185121 185121

7. 185122 185122

8. 185123 185123

9. 185124 185124

10. 185125 185125

11. 185126 185126

12. 185127 185127

13. 185128 185128

14. 185129 185129

15. 185130 185130

16. 185131 185131

17. 185132 185132

18. 185133 185133

19. 185134 185134

20. 185135 185135

21. 185136 185136

22. 185137 185137

23. 185138 185138

24. 185139 185139

25. 185140 185140

26. 185141 185141

27. 185142 185142

28. 185143 185143

29. 185144 185144

30. 185145 185145

31. 185146 185146

32. 185147 185147

33. 185148 185148

34. 185149 185149

35. 185150 185150

36. 185151 185151

37. 185152 185152

38. 185153 185153

39. 185154 185154

40. 185155 185155

41. 185156 185156

42. 185157 185157

43. 185158 185158

44. 185159 185159

45. 185160 185160

46. 185161 185161

47. 185162 185162

48. 185163 185163

49. 185164 185164

50. 185165 185165

51. 185166 185166

52. 185167 185167

53. 185168 185168

54. 185169 185169

55. 185170 185170

56. 185171 185171

57. 185172 185172

58. 185173 185173

59. 185174 185174

60. 185175 185175

61. 185176 185176

62. 185177 185177

63. 185178 185178

64. 185179 185179

65. 185180 185180

66. 185181 185181

67. 185182 185182

68. 185183 185183

69. 185184 185184

70. 185185 185185

71. 185186 185186

72. 185187 185187

73. 185188 185188

74. 185189 185189

75. 185190 185190

76. 185191 185191

77. 185192 185192

78. 185193 185193

79. 185194 185194

80. 185195 185195

81. 185196 185196

82. 185197 185197

83. 185198 185198

84. 185199 185199

85. 185200 185200

86. 185201 185201

87. 185202 185202

88. 185203 185203

89. 185204 185204

90. 185205 185205

91. 185206 185206

92. 185207 185207

93. 185208 185208

94. 185209 185209

95. 185210 185210

96. 185211 185211

97. 185212 185212

98. 185213 185213

99. 185214 185214

100. 185215 185215

101. 185216 185216

102. 185217 185217

103. 185218 185218

104. 185219 185219

105. 185220 185220

and huge month. This time it is reported by a light ship crew whose diary is simple and whose list of drinks is limited.

THE COMING CELEBRATION.

During three days, July 3rd, 4th and 5th, Janesville will entertain thousands of visitors who come to take part in the biggest celebration ever undertaken in Southern Wisconsin. Under the auspices of the Joint committee of the Industrial and Commercial Club, considerable money has been raised which will be used to make this celebration a success. The United States' government has detailed one battery of its regular artillery, a Colonel and his personal staff, one of its cavalry regiments and the three days. They start from Fort Sheridan

Wednesday morning bound for Janesville on their long march overland.

Eight companies of state militia, infantry companies from Milwaukee,

Whitewater, Ft. Atkinson, Beloit and

Monroe, all members of the First Regiment of Wisconsin National Guard and their officers and staff will be present. From Milwaukee comes the cavalry battery of the state, the battery "A." These regulars and citizen soldiers will all be in camp in the city either all or part of the three days. Governor McGovern, the state's chief executive will also be present to review the troops in the grand parade and at the sham battle at the Fair grounds. Congressman Cooper comes from Washington to be here during the three days and members of the state legislature, state officers and hundreds of prominent people from all parts of the state will be here, guests of the city during the celebration days.

To add to these visitors it must be remembered that the state encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans is to be in session during this same period. There are over two hundred delegates and with them will be fully eight hundred or a thousand former soldiers of the state and government during the Spanish war. It is due to the fact that this convention is to be held in Janesville that the military celebration planned is made possible.

In view of this fact all merchants and private residences should be suitably decorated. If American flags are always in order. But the wish is to honor the Spanish war veterans, their colors, chrome yellow and turkey red should be used also. The committee has decorated the streets with streamers of colors to which will be added

the American flag, electric arches will be strung and everything possible done to give the city a gala appearance. Business houses should remember that this is practically a state wide celebration, not merely a local affair and act accordingly. One enthusiast has suggested that homes might be illuminated in the evenings by placing candles in suitable dishes, in the windows. In other words transforming the homes of individuals into "houses of a thousand candles" at but a trifling expense. The idea of decoration is worth considering and many merchants have already placed their position and doubtless others will follow the lead set.

THE FIXER.

Every person has perhaps one person who believes that his sole duty in life is to act as "fixer" for the evils of all his friends and, even stray acquaintances. A man whose province in life is that of publicly posing as a person to whom all things are an open book and whose power is unlimited. Who knows more of every other kind of business than his own butter than man trained in them. Who seeks to obtrude himself into every public function, whether asked or not, expressing his views freely and always degrading to the men who are seeking to do public good. This village cut-up is always in evidence. If given a place of prominence he is content, if not he is what is termed the opposite of a "booster." Good persons are detrimental to such untold work by citizens seeking public good. He is a trouble maker whose real work is never appreciated until he is out of the way entirely.

WILL IT PASS.

It was one hot July day in 1776, that the people thronged up and down

Chestnut street in the old old Quaker

City of Philadelphia, waiting and watching for some word from the members of the Continental Congress, in session in the old structure near the Delaware, as to whether the Declaration of Independence was to be signed.

There were many in that assembly, behind closely guarded doors, who wavered. Who feared the results. But the great bell tolled out at last, telling the people that the act was passed, that Thomas Jefferson, John Hancock and others had signed the pact making this nation free and independent. Today in Washington another pact is being discussed behind the closed doors of the Senate's committee rooms.

While it is not as important to the nation at large as was the gathering in Philadelphia still it is a measure which, in future years will work wonders in the trade and business of this country. The Canadian treaty is one that is not fully understood by many who fear its results upon the agricultural districts. President Taft and the leaders of the conservative republican party are pledged to its passage. In this work they are backed by the conservative democrats and opposed by insurgent republicans and radical democrats who seek free trade rather than reciprocity. It is nearing

July and it would be a strange coincidence if, on July Fourth, the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, the Senate of the United States should pass the measure which grants

a reciprocity agreement with the Canadian provinces, subjects of England and under English rule.

This is the period of conventions of doctors and lawyers and various organizations, national and state, throughout the country. For some reason the hottest weather is always selected for these gatherings and evidently in order that the delegates may appreciate their own cool homes when they get back.

In passing the ordinance permitting the interurban to cross Milwaukee street and lay tracks up North Main street, the council put itself on record as favoring a bigger and better Janesville.

The anxiety with which some members of the legislature have shown over the passage of pet measures has waxed now that the "hottest spell" has struck the state.

Janesville with its open street cars

Even from Chicago.

Patient in yesterday from the city for dental work for me to do. Because I do painless work. My efforts in this line are effective and efficient. I disappoint no one. Try me.

Dr. T. F. Richards
Office over Hall & Sayles.

Boy Scout
Elkskin Shoes

$1.98

These shoes wear like iron. Actual tests on the emery wheel show that they will outwear 5 pairs of ordinary leather shoes. They are made of genuine elkskin, are smooth and pliable as a glove, soft and easy on the foot. They are cut for comfort. Every member of the Boy Scouts should have a pair of these shoes. Tell your Dad about them; tell him to get a pair for himself.

BROWN BROS.

ESTABLISHED 1888.

THE

First National Bank

THIS BANK PROTECTS ITS OWN DEPOSITORS, by its capital and surplus of $260,000, now invested in the business.

By constant attention to its affairs given by seven directors who are experienced business men.

Interest paid on savings accounts and on demand certificates of deposits. We invite your patronage.

CALL UP CELEBRATION HEADQUARTERS

and list your vacant rooms for accommodation of visitors during celebration. No Charge. Rock Co. Phone 1297. Wis. 24. Ask for Free Post Cards at Headquarters. Corner store next Opera House.

Lot for Rent

Lot next the Y. M. C. A. (on Milwaukee street) with two tents during coming celebration. Suitable for stands. Thirty-three feet wide and full depth. Tents for sale after July 5th. Inquire at Schmiedley Bros. Restaurant.

KOOKT OTE, THE NEW BREAKFAST FOOD

ROLLED OATS COOKED. READY TO EAT, VERY FINE 10¢ PKG.

OLD POTATOES 70¢ BU.

SPECIAL FOR TOMORROW TANGLEFOOT FLY PAPER, 25 DOUBLE SHEETS 25¢.

BLACK RASPBERRIES 15¢ QT. BOX.

RED CHERRIES 10¢ BOX; $1.50 CASE.

CAL. LEMONS 35¢ DOZ.

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS 5¢ QUART.

ORFORDVILLE CREAMERY BUTTER 26¢ LB.

E. R. WINSLOW

23 N. Main St. Both Phones.

His Query. A foreigner, watching a young kitten playing with its mother, asked of his friend: "What you see eat call you is a little pup?"

KELLER IS HELD BY CORONER'S JURY ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Equivalent of First Degree Murder Charge Result of Jury Findings in Hieshko Murder Case Investigation.

Louis Keller, the principal actor in the tragedy at the Hieshko home last Wednesday night, at which time Mrs. Johanna Hieshko was shot to death, today stands charged with murder in the first degree, following the verdict of coroner's jury brought in at eleven o'clock this morning.

Yesterday and today the juryman have listened to the testimony offered by the important witnesses in the affair and their verdict followed shortly after a visit to the scene of the shooting this morning.

The jury was not out more than five minutes and the following verdict was the result of their short deliberation:

"An inquisition taken at Janesville, in the County of Rock, on the 26th and 27th days of June, 1911, before Stanley D. Tallman, one of the Justices of the Peace of the said county, upon the view of the body of Johanna Hieshko, by the jurors whose names are hereunto subscribed, who, being duly sworn to inquire on behalf of this state when, in what manner and by what means the said Johanna Hieshko came to her death, upon their oaths do say that the said Johanna Hieshko came to her death as a result of bullet wounds inflicted by bullets fired from a revolver held by and fired by one Louis Keller, and that the said bullets were fired from the said revolver by the said Louis Keller with intent to kill the said Johanna Hieshko.

That the said Johanna Hieshko came to her death between nine and ten o'clock in the evening of June 26th, 1911, on the premises known as No. 1414 South Third street, Janesville, Wisconsin.

The following are the six men who acted in the decision which charges Keller with premeditated murder: W. E. Lawyer; H. W. Brown; R. L. Brown; C. T. Connell; E. J. Hullock and J. R. Horn.

The six jurors with Judge Tallman, Under Sheriff John Connolly, District Attorney Dunwiddie and Attorney Fisher left for the scene of the crime this morning about ten o'clock in a carryall. Although only one witness was examined there, much was straightened out in the minds of the jurors by the viewing of the scenes described in the testimony.

Without being sworn in, Mr. Hieshko in a very graphic manner went through the happenings of the episode and the juryman went into the details of the positions and relative distances of the parties present on the night of the murder.

Mrs. Millie Northrup, a neighbor was sworn in and told of hearing the shots fired by Keller. She said that she thought the whole revolver was emptied. She testified that she had never been a witness to any trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Hieshko and Keller.

The spot where Keller was greeted by Hieshko, the position of the murdered woman before and after the shots were fired, the bullet hole in the wood shed and the blood stains which marked the place where Mrs. Hieshko fell against the back door, were all gone over by the juryman and attorneys.

Both this morning's investigation and the testimony of yesterday showed plainly that Keller came to the Hieshko home on Wednesday night with a loaded revolver with the intention of taking a life. Yesterday afternoon was entirely given over to the testimony of Mr. Hieshko and his daughter, Catherine. Beside the story of the shooting, the latter's testimony showed instances of considerable import in the relations of herself and the alleged murderer.

She said that on several occasions Keller had implied that he desired to marry her, telling of two thousand dollars life insurance which he carried, and which would be all hers one day. Questioning failed to bring out any motive that she might have considered sufficient to be the cause of Keller's act.

The father's story, told to the jury yesterday afternoon, coincided with that of the girl in almost every instance. The former thought that there were four shots fired in all and the testimony of the daughter was to the effect that there were only three shots fired. Fred Hieshko was equally at a loss to know what could have been the motive for Keller's act.

No date can be set as yet for the trial but it is certain that some date will be fixed during the October term of the circuit court.

SPECIAL SHOE VALUE $1.95.

Here's a shoe bargain you can't afford to miss. Call early. See ad on page 3 for particulars. AMOS REINHOLD & CO.

VACATION READING.

By making special application to the Librarian, patron of the Public Library will be allowed to draw any number of books up to ten, and keep them out through vacation time, such time, however, not to exceed two months.

THE ORATORIA "HOLY CITY" TONIGHT

The last of rehearsals for the oratorio, "The Holy City," have taken place and the fifty voices representing the Young People's Choir and Choral Union of the Congregational church together with the assistance of Mrs. Tewksbury the noted soprano, Mr. Brewster, tenor; Leonard Mathews, baritone; Zoe Pearl Parke, contralto and director; Miss Ada Pond, organist, and the rendition tonight will be an event of much interest. It will be a musical treat worthy of attendance.

LADIES' SHOES SPECIALLY PRICED.

Here's an unusual bargain event. You can't help but appreciate the big values we're offering you. See ad on page 3. AMOS REINHOLD & CO.

BRIEF PERSONAL NEWS.

William Wheeler, of Milwaukee, attorney for the Northwestern railroad, was in the city last evening.

H. E. Miller is here on business from Madison.

F. T. Burke, of Monroe, was a business visitor yesterday.

L. V. Clark was a business visitor from Madison yesterday.

C. M. Hinchey was a visitor from Milwaukee yesterday.

L. J. Rosweng of Milwaukee was in town yesterday.

J. M. Amburn was a Madison visitor in the city last evening.

Willard and Harwood Skelly left yesterday to spend the rest of the week in Rockton.

Dr. F. H. Welch left for Dwight, Ill., last night to spend the rest of the week with friends.

Dr. H. J. Irwin was in the city from Baraboo last night.

H. A. Forney was here on business from Milwaukee last evening.

Mrs. J. S. Field and her daughters Ruth and Marguerite, have gone to their summer home at Landerdale Lake for an outing.

William Olson was a visitor from Whitewater yesterday.

Will McCue left yesterday for Chicago, where he will spend a few days.

The engagement of Esther V. Connell to John J. Templeton was announced Sunday. The wedding will take place July 12, at St. Patrick's church.

John Shawhan is spending the day in Madison, being called there on business.

C. W. Jorge of Monroe, is spending the day in this city on business.

M. A. Black, of Beloit, is visiting Janesville today.

Mrs. Henry Daffay, of Minneapolis, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. Peterson, 296 Glenn street.

Miss Mary Todd, of Dixon, Ill., has been spending several days as the guest of Miss Emma Richardson.

Peter Brown of Chicago visited here yesterday with his brother Walter Brown.

Miss Genevieve Ryan has returned for her summer vacation from La Crosse, where she is attending the normal school.

E. P. Sullivan of Hutchinson, Kansas, is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. J. Murphy.

Miss Dorothy Engers of Colorado Springs, Colorado, and Mrs. Frank Snyder and infant daughter of Peoria, Ill., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Haunerson.

Mr. and Mrs. K. K. K. and daughter, Edna, moved here today and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wisch.

Elmer Rodgott of Beloit, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sykes.

Fred Ayres of Milton, visited in the city Sunday.

Miss Dora L. Sykes of Milton Junction, spent Sunday and Monday with Miss Lucille Bryan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Luchinger and daughter of Milwaukee, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wisch.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Isbell of Oshkosh are visitors in the city.

Miss Armstrong entertained at her home on South Franklin street this afternoon for her niece, Miss Mary Swan of Watertown.

C. E. Bradish of Stoughton transacted business in the city today.

H. L. McNamara spent Sunday in Chicago, visiting his brother, who is ill there.

William Olson of Whitewater was in the city last night.

H. Schroeder and A. H. Hains of Madison were visitors here today.

B. B. Tighe of Clinton spent the day in the city.

A. H. Taylor came from St. Ann's Hospital, Chicago, yesterday and will be at his home, 302 Prospect Avenue, until Thursday morning, when he will return to the hospital, where he is gradually improving under the care of Dr. F. J. Glenn from his difficult operation of over one year ago.

Mrs. Victoria Potter has recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital and is staying with Mrs. Bailey, North bluff street.

T. D. Woolsey of Beloit was in the city today.

J. W. Loughran of Edgerton was a visitor in the city today.

Another Way of Looking at It. Little Johnnie, not yet three years old, is very fond of his grandfather. One day, while following him, he said: "Grandpa, you've got a hole in your pants." Grandpa said: "Where, John? I can't see it." John replied: "Look at it with your finger, grandpa."—The Deliberator.

Painfully Exact. The sign which many dentists display, says the Western Medical Journal, reading "Dentist's Parlor" should read "Dentist's Drawing Room."

Make your advertising a steady diet not a banquet.

Blackberries for Canning

Per Case... $2.25 Per Quart... .15

Cherries, Blueberries and Currants.

Home Grown String Beans and Peas.

Cucumbers, Radishes, Lettuce and Turnips.

Green Apples, pkts. ....65c MEATS

Nice Shoulder Roast Lamb lb. ....15c

Veal Stew, lb. ....10c

Frank's New English Ham, lb. ....20c

Boiled Ham, lb. ....35c

Mixed Ham, lb. ....17c

Cooked Corn Beef, lb. ....25c

Wafer Sliced Dried Beef lb. 35c

Prompt deliveries.

J.F.Schooff

"The Market on the Square" Both Phones.

Blackberries for Canning

Per Case... $2.25 Per Quart... .15

Cherries, Blueberries and Currants.

Home Grown String Beans and Peas.

Cucumbers, Radishes, Lettuce and Turnips.

Green Apples, pkts. ....65c MEATS

Nice Shoulder Roast Lamb lb. ....15c

Veal Stew, lb. ....10c

Frank's New English Ham, lb. ....20c

Boiled Ham, lb. ....35c

Mixed Ham, lb. ....17c

Cooked Corn Beef, lb. ....25c

Wafer Sliced Dried Beef lb. 35c

Prompt deliveries.

J.F.Schooff

"The Market on the Square" Both Phones.

Blackberries for Canning

Per Case... $2.25 Per Quart... .15

Cherries, Blueberries and Currants.

Home Grown String Beans and Peas.

Cucumbers, Radishes, Lettuce and Turnips.

Green Apples, pkts. ....65c MEATS

Nice Shoulder Roast Lamb lb. ....15c

Veal Stew, lb. ....10c

Frank's New English Ham, lb. ....20c

Boiled Ham, lb. ....35c

Mixed Ham, lb. ....17c

Cooked Corn Beef, lb. ....25c

Wafer Sliced Dried Beef lb. 35c

Prompt deliveries.

J.F.Schooff

"The Market on the Square" Both Phones.

Blackberries for Canning

CO-OPERATION OF
MERCHANTS ASKED

Chairman of Civic Parade Desires That Every Business Firm Should Have Float in Parade.

E. T. Fish, chairman of the Civic parade for the Fourth of July, asks that every firm desiring to enter a float on that date make arrangements to have their float ready without the committee calling personally on them. Time is so short and a multitude of other matters made it impossible to make a personal solicitation and it is desired that every business house in the city be represented in this mammoth affair.

TO HOLD SMOKER AT ELK ROOMS TONIGHT

Industrial and Commercial Club Will Have Monthly Gathering This Evening.

This evening at the Elk Club, the June meeting of the Industrial and Commercial Club will be held under the leadership of Mayor John C. Nichols. Mr. Nichols has prepared a tentative program which should prove most interesting. At the meeting of the directors held Monday, it was decided to abandon the regular Monday meetings and hold none of them during July and August. In place there will be a monthly dinner alternating with the smokers. The smokers are to be made quite a feature and business men are urged to attend even if they are not members. This evening Mr. O. Mount and William Dougherty will represent the legal and while P. P. Starr will talk on taxation.

CHURCHES IN ANNUAL PATRIOTIC SERVICE

Rev. W. D. Cox of Milwaukee, Will Deliver Address To Janesville Churches Sunday Evening.

Rev. W. D. Cox, field secretary of the anti-slavery league, will deliver the annual patriotic address to the Janesville churches next Sunday evening, July 2nd, at the Cargill Memorial Methodist church.

The church that annually unite for a patriotic service the first Sunday in July are: Presbyterian, Congregational, Baptist, Methodist and United Brethren. Rev. T. D. Williams will be the presiding officer and appropriate music will be furnished by the chorus choir of the Methodist church under the direction of Miss Cora Anderson.

Rev. Cox will take as his subject, "Patriotism and the Nation." He is a speaker of power and eloquence and will have a message of more usual significance for the meeting Sunday evening.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Sunday School Picnic: The Presbyterian Sunday School picnic will be held at Yoda's park tomorrow, June 28th; special cars will leave Janesville at ten A. M. and returning leave the park at seven P. M. Scholars may secure their tickets at the church picnic morning at 9:30.

Assessment Rolls Open: The assessment rolls are now open for public inspection in the assessors' room at the city hall.

Auto Parties: Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Miller Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Lay of Chicago, and R. C. Bollew of Grand Forks, were members of an auto party registered at the Myers hotel overnight. F. B. and H. F. Block of Chicago were registered there for dinner yesterday. A party comprising Dr. H. J. Irwin C. A. Carpenter, F. C. Peck and Donna Peck of Baraboo stopped at the Grand hotel yesterday.

Church Picnic: The Congregational and Sunday school of the Cargill Memorial Methodist church will hold a picnic tomorrow, up the river at Crystal Springs park. The boat will leave the dock at nine and half past ten o'clock in the morning and again at one o'clock in the afternoon for the grounds.

Get Ten Days: William Gaffney of Beloit was sentenced yesterday morning by Judge Ross of the Municipal court of that city to spend ten days in the county jail here as the result of being found intoxicated on the streets.

How to Make a Debate. Take two parts of wind and two parts of noise, mix thoroughly, and you have a political debate.—Chicago Daily News.

Blackberries for Canning

Per Case... $2.25 Per Quart... .15

Cherries, Blueberries and Currants.

Home Grown String Beans and Peas.

Cucumbers, Radishes, Lettuce and Turnips.

Green Apples, pkts. ....65c MEATS

Nice Shoulder Roast Lamb lb. ....15c

Veal Stew, lb. ....10c

Frank's New English Ham, lb. ....20c

Boiled Ham, lb. ....35c

Mixed Ham, lb. ....17c

Cooked Corn Beef, lb. ....25c

Wafer Sliced Dried Beef lb. 35c

Prompt deliveries.

J.F.Schooff

"The Market on the Square" Both Phones.

Blackberries for Canning

Per Case... $2.25 Per Quart... .15

Cherries, Blueberries and Currants.

Home Grown String Beans and Peas.

Cucumbers, Radishes, Lettuce and Turnips.

Green Apples, pkts. ....65c MEATS

Nice Shoulder Roast Lamb lb. ....15c

Veal Stew, lb. ....10c

Frank's New English Ham, lb. ....20c

Boiled Ham, lb. ....35c

Mixed Ham, lb. ....17c

Cooked Corn Beef, lb. ....25c

Wafer Sliced Dried Beef lb. 35c

Prompt deliveries.

J.F.Schooff

"The Market on the Square" Both Phones.

Blackberries for Canning

Per Case... $2.25 Per Quart... .15

Cherries, Blueberries and Currants.

Home Grown String Beans and Peas.

Cucumbers, Radishes, Lettuce and Turnips.

Green Apples, pkts. ....65c MEATS

Nice Shoulder Roast Lamb lb. ....15c

Veal Stew, lb. ....10c

Frank's New English Ham, lb. ....20c

Boiled Ham, lb. ....35c

Mixed Ham, lb. ....17c

ALL RATE CHANGES
GO TO COMMISSION

Railroads in State Must Submit New Schedules to Railroad Commission Before They Become Effective.

According to a law passed at the present session of the legislature no railroad in the state of Wisconsin will be allowed to make a change in rates within the state without having filed with the railroad commission the change and the reasons therefor.

Letters were sent out today by the commission to all the roads in Wisconsin advising them of the terms of the new law and the requirements they will have to meet in the future. Notices of the changes and all information regarding them must be filed with the state commission not less than thirty days prior to the date the change will become effective.

A Help Locally. There is little doubt that this will be of great help to Janesville shippers and will mean much toward the adjusting of any differences in regard to proposed changes in rates to Wisconsin points. Proposed changes in rates by either of the roads here will now have to be filed with the commission and at that time the shippers may file complaints if they have any to offer, and the matter will be settled before the rate goes into effect.

ROOT PROVISION KILLED BY BIG VOTE IN SENATE

Amendment Proposing Modification of Print Paper Section of Reciprocity Bill Is Killed.

Washington, June 27.—After seven hours of discussion the Root amendment to the Canadian reciprocity measure which proposed a modification of the print paper and wood pulp section of the treaty was overwhelmingly defeated in the senate and the reciprocity bill emerged unscathed from its first ordeal.

The friends of the amendment were so satisfied of its defeat that a roll call on the vote was not demanded.

This leaves the reciprocity measure open to the general fight that is to follow for amendment of important provisions of the Payne tariff law. Senator La Follette announced in a speech opposing the Root amendment that he would give the senate a chance to pass on general tariff amendments for free paper, free lumber and lumber products and for reductions in many other schedules. Senator Clapp also announced his intention of offering a free paper amendment later, and other senators gave evidence of their purpose to force, from now on, consideration of tariff revision on the widest plane.

Senator Penrose, who is in charge of the reciprocity bill, said:

"Reciprocity is a stronger position than ever. The activity of the insurgents against it has served merely to strengthen its position. I look for a vote on it by August 1, but hardly before."

Senator Penrose tried to get consent to fix a time for votes on all three of the now pending bills, reciprocity, farmers' free list and the wool schedule, but neither the Democrats nor the insurgents were willing to fix any time. Free and full discussion is insisted upon, wherefore a summer long debate is in prospect before the formal and official O. K. is fixed on reciprocity.

190 ZIONISTS ARE INDICTED. Dowle's Successor and Adherents Are Charged With Election Frauds.

Waukegan, Ill., June 27.—Overseer Wilbur Glen Voliva and 189 other officers and members of the Christian Catholic church in Zion were indicted at Zion City, charged with perpetrating election frauds at the Zion City elections April 5 and 18, involving in part control of the church founded by the late John Alexander Dowle.

Two hundred witnesses were heard. It is alleged that Voliva and his co-workers in the election brought members of the church from all parts of the country, including San Francisco, Portland, Ore., Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Cleveland and other cities, to vote. Their qualifications in many instances were protested by the "independents," but they are said to have sworn in their votes by taking oath that they were residents of Zion City.

If you have anything to sell use a Want Ad.

DOCTORS MEET IN LOS ANGELES.

American Medical Association Convention Is Largely Attended.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 27.—For the first time since 1895 the American Medical Association has come to the Pacific coast for its annual meeting, and between three and four thousand of its members were here when the first session was called to order this morning. After welcoming speeches by Governor Johnson, Mayor Alexander and the heads of the state and local medical associations, President John H. Murphy, M. D., of Chicago took the chair and delivered his address. The meetings of the sections then began, and these will continue until Friday afternoon. Nearly 400 scientific papers will be presented and discussed by the leading physicians and surgeons of the country. The commercial and scientific exhibits are especially complete and interesting.

AUSTRIAN PREMIER RESIGNS.

Baron Gautsch von Frankenthurn Succeds Baron von Blumenthal.

Vienna, June 27.—Baron von Blumenthal, who has been premier since November, 1908, although it became necessary to reconstruct his cabinet in February, 1909, resigned as the result of the recent elections.

The emperor immediately appointed Baron Gautsch von Frankenthurn to succeed the retiring premier.

It is said that the other ministers will retain their portfolios. Baron Gautsch von Frankenthurn has twice before been premier.

Electrical Engineers Convene.

Chicago, June 27.—The twenty-eighth annual convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was opened here this morning by Duane C. Jackson's presidential address on "Electrical Engineers and the Public." The president-elect, Gustav Dunn, was then introduced. The delegates had luncheon at the Western Electrical company's plant and later visited the Commonwealth Edison power houses. Beginning this evening, the institute will hold a number of sessions at which technical questions will be taken up.

Michigan Typos Have Banquet.

Flint, Mich., June 27.—The convention of the Michigan Federation of Typographical Unions was opened last night with a big banquet at the Bryant house. Clarence Neely, head of the Detroit union, was toastmaster, and the address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Menton. The business sessions of the federation will be varied with trolley and boat rides.

Tore Up $5,000.

When Herr Schlemelman of Vienna, presented his wife with a lottery ticket on her birthday, she reproached him for wastefulness and tore it into shreds. The ticket has won $5,000, but as they cannot produce the ticket they cannot obtain the money. The husband is now petitioning for a divorce.

CATHOLIC EDUCATORS ASSEMBLE

For First Time in Association's History Nuns Take Part.

Chicago, June 27.—Fully 3,000 delegates are attending the congress of the Catholic Educational Association, which opened today at De Paul university and will continue in session for three days. For the first time in the history of the association the nuns are taking part in the deliberations. The delegates are the superintendents and teachers in parochial schools, presidents of colleges and ecclesiastical seminaries and representatives of the Catholic university and of the various Catholic educational organizations in all parts of the United States.

The national officers of the association are Cardinal Gibbons, honorary president; Right Reverend Thomas J. Shahan, D. D., president general; Very Reverend James A. Burns, C. S. C., Rev. W. J. Shanley, L. L. D., and Very Reverend H. T. Drumgoole, L. L. D., vice-presidents general; Rev. Francis W. Howard, L. L. D., secretary general; Rev. Francis T. Moran, treasurer general.

A Disappointing Man.

When Prof. Charles Zuehlbin of Harvard was last in Kansas City he immediately sought out L. H. Fier, assistant manager of the Coates House, who was his boyhood friend. They had played on the same college baseball team and were chums at school. One afternoon Mr. Fier and Prof. Zuehlbin went to Evanston to play golf. The professor is almost an expert at the game. He was constantly addressed as "professor." Finally Mr. Fier's caddy whispered to him:

"Oh, no, my boy," Mr. Fier answered, "he's a professor in a university."

The caddy studied a moment and then said, with a decided show of disappointment:

"Bluckat is that all?"—Kansas City Star.

Better Done in Private.

A well-known doctor, we read, advises people to roll the eyes in order to strengthen the eye-muscles. A little risky, perhaps; for if this exercise were carefully practiced in crowded restaurants and other public places, the eye would stand a good chance of being suddenly blackened.

The Man Fond of His Work.

Give us, O give us the man who sings at his work! Be his occupation what it may he is equal to any of those who follow the same pursuit in silent dullness. He will do more in the same time—he will do it better—he will persevere longer.—Thomas Carlyle.

Dream of an Artist.

I met by a picture, a beautiful, romantic dream of something that never was, never will be—in a light better than ever shone—in a land no one can define or remember, only desire—and the forms divinely beautiful—then I wake up with the waking of Byrnhild.—Burne-Jones.

J. P. MORGAN IS HONORED BY EMPEROR WILLIAM

Grand Cross of Red Eagle Is Conferred on American Millionaire by Kaiser.

Kiel, Germany, June 27.—J. Pierpont Morgan presented Emperor William with the autograph letter written by Martin Luther to Emperor Charles V., for which the American recently paid $25,500. His majesty forthwith conferred the grand cross of the Order of the Red Eagle on Mr. Morgan.

The letter, which is in Latin, was written in 1521, during the reformer's return journey from the Diet at Worms, and described the proceedings and defended his attitude. It did not reach the emperor, as its contents were such that no one dared deliver it.

A Florence dealer, representing Mr. Morgan, obtained the epistle at an autograph sale at Leipzig, Saxony, on May 3 last. As soon as it became known that the historic document was to go to America the annoyance of the German public was expressed in many newspaper editorials.

Washington, June 27.—Emperor William of Germany and President Taft exchanged messages growing out of the visit of the American squadron to Kiel. The emperor in his message said:

"I beg you to accept my best compliments with regard to the fine crew and to the excellent state of efficiency and order which I found on this fine ship. I thank you sincerely for sending this fine squadron to Kiel."

President Taft in his message of reply said:

"I greatly appreciate your kind telegram so cordial in its sentiments to the American navy, to whom it is a source of great pride that your imperial majesty honored our admiral by taking luncheon on the Lothringen and inspecting the ship and crew."

5,000 Cattle Drowned in Flood.

Grand Junction, Ohio, June 27.—A reservoir containing 5,000 acre feet of water burst, causing a property damage of $100,000. Five thousand cattle were drowned and several bridges were swept away. No lives were lost. Along the path of the flood for 15 miles crops were washed out.

Heed and Remember!

Avoid anger and then will not sin.—Talmud.

Little Bed-Time Tales By EDITH HAVENS

The Moon Path

THE moon path, like a narrow, trembling veil of silver, stretched out across the sea into the darkness.

Just where did it go, Bobby wondered, and what was at the end of it.

It was late for a little boy to be out all alone, and especially down on the beach by the great ocean, but when you come to think of it, it wasn't so terrible a thing, for Bobby's house was just a little way up the beach road, and even at that minute he could hear his sister Mabel playing on the piano.

But Bobby paid no attention to the distant sounding of the piano. He was straight at the little boy sitting at the just staring straight out along the wonderful moon path and wondering and wondering.

He was sitting very close to the water; in fact so very close that he could dip his toes into the ever moving back and forward edge of the moon path in front of him. The waves, wet and cold ran up against his hand as they rippled in on the sandy shore, and a voice said: "It is a beautiful song, pretty song and the moon moon path, isn't it, Bobby?"

Though how much like a lot of bubbling silver pebbles it looked—millions of them, with here and there a brilliant patch of gold ones.

Suddenly a little to the left of the moon path the water was thrown into a shining spray, as a great, glittery fish dropped up into the air; they curved away out along the moonpath?" he said, and fell back gracefully into the water, climbing up into Bobby's lap.

"I wished he could do it again," said Bobby to himself.

Hardly had the words left his mouth Bobby—all excited—when once again the water splashed and the fish dropped up into the air. And said the fish as he dropped out of Bobby's lap into the beach.

Out onto the narrow silver roadway he leaped, and Bobby, rising to his feet, paused at the edge and watched him.

"Come on, come on," shouted the fish. "You won't sink, it's just like walking on the beach."

And Bobby reached forward his little sun-tanned foot, and sure enough the silver water seemed just as firm as the beach itself.

He took three or four steps and marveled that he had never known he could walk on the moon path before. Then out over across the water he walked—straight out into the darkness. Away off in the distance he could see the fish leaping on and on.

And then something terrible happened, for Bobby felt himself sinking. He could feel the cold, wet water up about his waist and in his terror he began to cry out.

"Oh, help, help, help!" he shouted. Suddenly a firm hand gripped his shoulder.

"Well, if it isn't Bobby, fast asleep on the beach with the water soaking him through," said a voice very far away.

And then Bobby opened his eyes. "I must have been dreaming," he said.

"I guess you must," answered his father with a laugh, "but I guess we'll do the rest of it over to the house."

As Bobby walked towards home, he looked back at the shining moon path and sparkling water. Something bright and great ways out.

"Perhaps it's the fish, after all," said Bobby to himself.

Vanity of Man.

It is an almost universal law of human nature that nothing is more interesting to a man than himself. He therefore has a craving—in some men it is a morbid craving—to meet some one who is as much interested in himself as he is.—Hearth and Home.

Metals in New Caledonia.

Nickel mining is active in New Caledonia. European firms are investing largely in it and other mining. Some fair gold discoveries have been made recently.

Burning the Candle.

To use more of the candle than is usually possible, fit a cork into the candlestick, leaving about a quarter of an inch space around the top. Run a heavy needle through the cork and push the candle down on that.

Examine Signatures.

A number of the larger banking institutions employ from one to half a dozen men whose sole duty is to examine every check that comes in through the clearing house, and vouch for the genuineness of the signatures.

Prolificacy of the Skunk.

While there are no official statistics on record, it is known that the American skunk will begin breeding at one year old. They breed twice a year, and have litters of from five to thirteen—an average of eight to the litter.

The Barley Farmers of the Northwest have known for over fifty years that the cream of their crops form the basis of

Gund's Peerless Beer

The hop growers of the district of Saaz, in far off Bohemia, also know that the flower of their vines imparts its tonic properties. The rare flavor of Peerless distinguishes it above all bottled beers. Order a case delivered to your home today. Sold by all dealers.

John Gund Brewing Co.
La Crosse, Wis.

H. C. Burgman, Mgr.
Phone Old 1273
New 339
Janesville, Wis.

Great Sale of Misses' and Children's Wash Dresses All This Week

OUR great assortment of wash dresses will please every woman. It will pay you to take advantage of this great sale. We are exclusive agents here for the celebrated Saratoga and Princess line of wash dresses. They are the largest manufacturers of misses' and children's wash dresses in the world. They come in percales, gingham and lawns.

Expert dress makers are employed to make these dresses. The harmony of colors is an art, and here are many beautiful examples. The patterns are almost unlimited. They are all made with deep hems which is a great advantage to growing girls.

Children's Plain and Figured Percale Dresses, long waisted style with plaited skirt, nicely trimmed in braid, ages 2 to 6, regular price 85c; special at ..... 69c

Children's Percale and Gingham Dresses, plain colors, also stripes and checks, low neck and short sleeves, also high neck and long sleeve styles; they are nicely trimmed in embroidery and plain bands, ages 4 to 12 regular value $1.50 and $1.65 special at ..... $1.18

Children's Percale and Gingham Dresses in checks and stripes, low neck and short sleeves, also high neck and long sleeves, nicely trimmed in bands, plain piping and buttons, extra good quality, sizes 8 to 14, worth $2.00 and $2.25; special at ..... $1.59

Misses' and Children's Percale and Gingham Dresses in plaids, stripes and dots, low neck and short sleeves and high neck and long sleeves, also some sailor suits in lot, a beautiful line of styles to select from, ages 8 to 17, worth $2.50 and $2.75; special ..... $1.98

Misses' and Children's Dresses, made of fancy plaid and check gingham, extra fine quality gingham, low neck and short sleeves and high neck and long sleeve style, some are trimmed in embroidery insertion, others trimmed in plain band and button. This is a banner assortment, ages 12 to 16, worth $3.25 and $3.50; special at ..... $2.78

Misses' Large Plaid Gingham Dresses, so popular this season, they come in the low neck and short sleeve style, made of extra quality gingham, trimmed in embroidery insertion, buttons, and fancy pings, ages 15 to 19, worth $4.00; special at ..... $3.18

Misses' and Children's Extra Fine French Gingham Dresses, also some very fine lawn dresses in this lot; low neck and short sleeves, also high neck and long sleeves, trimmed in embroidery insertion and lace, also braid trimmed. In this lot we are showing a nice line of sailor dresses, ages 12 to 19, worth $4.50 to $5.00; sale price ..... $3.89

DON'T PUT IT OFF BUT COME TODAY,

The Bargain Basement

The Bargain Basement under the North Store is attracting great crowds daily. Been down there yet? There are hosts of bargains. It will prove not only extremely interesting, but very profitable to take a little journey to The Bargain Basement.

Oriental Display

Second Floor, Drapery Section.

We have on exhibition and sale, for a limited period, a rare and exclusive assortment of Oriental Wares and Fabrics from India, China, Japan and the Philippines. Embroidered Waist, Dress and Coat Patterns, Table and Bed Linens, Kimonos, Mandarin Coats, Trimmings, Ivorys, Brasses and many other useful and decorative articles.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

W e pride ourselves, in weighing worth and merit, too much in virtues that we but inherit. Some practical grandfathers make us late delay and we are proud to keep our own and day. But our ancestral follies and abuses we still indulge in and make for their excuses. Let him be proud, dared men be proud at all. Who stands where all his fathers used to fall, holding their virtues fast and passing on. Still higher good through his own victories won."

—I. O. RANKIN.

"Yes, I suppose I shouldn't have said that, but you know I am naturally quick tempered. I inherit it from my father, I think. You know he had an uncontrollable tongue."

So I heard a woman say the other day. She said it very complacently and apparently felt entirely content and justified in her excuse.

Isn't that a queer and yet a common state of mind? To think that because one is born with a predisposition to some particular fault one's yielding to it thereby becomes entirely excusable?

"I can't help being obstinate. It's a regular family trait. The Harbottles never could give up anything they really set their hearts on."

"Oh well you mustn't blame me for being rather revengeful. We're all that way. It's in the blood never to forget a friend or forgive an enemy."

"I suppose I am rather quick to jump at conclusions but that's my natural disposition. You mustn't lay it up against me."

How complacently and with what serene self-justification people go about saying things like that.

If anything, it seems as if they were proud rather than ashamed of their inherited failings.

Now, of course, the fact that one is naturally very weak in some direction might explain one's yielding to temptations of that sort a little oftener than other people. But it wouldn't explain one's yielding all the time. And it wouldn't excuse one's yielding at all.

Someone has said, "While we are not responsible for the character that we bring into the world, we are responsible for that we take out."

It seems to me that sums up the whole situation in a sentence.

We aren't responsible for having a tendency to be quick tempered or pig-headed or unforgiving, but we must certainly be responsible if we do nothing to conquer it. And doubly responsible, too—both to ourselves and the generations that are to inherit our unconquered weaknesses.

"We gain the strength of the temptation we resist," says Goethe.

Better still, we not only gain it, but we pass it on to countless generations and take away from them the weakening prop of being able to say "I am quick-tempered, I am pig-headed, I am unforgiving—because it's in the family."

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

Heart and Home Talks
By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Some Breathing Exercises.

THE deep, full breath should be the habitual form of breathing. If one wants one's breathing to be an aid to health. But in addition, there are certain breathing exercises which if taken occasionally will be found very beneficial.

To cultivate lung endurance, the following is helpful:

After taking a full, deep breath, retain the air a few seconds and then instead of exhaling the usual way, form the air out through the lips as if in whistling. That is, pucker the lips as if for whistling, only do not puff out the cheeks, and force the air with considerable vigor through the opening. Do not exhale all the air at once. Exhale a small amount, then hold the breath a second or two, and then exhale a little again, and so on until all the air in the lungs is exhausted.

When one feels tired, this is a very good exercise to take. It ventilates and cleanses the lungs, wakes up the coils, and invigorates all the respiratory organs, and in its ultimate result, refreshes the whole body.

Very good for the nerves is the following exercise: Take a full breath and while it is retained, hold the arms straight in front, not rigidly but rather limply, and then draw the hands back to the chest in front of the shoulders. As you draw the hands back, forcibly contract the muscles of the arms and clinch the fists. Keeping the arm-muscles tense and the fists clenched, thrust the fists out and back rapidly. Do this several times still holding the breath. Then exhale the breath and rest a few minutes. Repeat the exercise a number of times. Be sure to take the deep, full breath before starting the exercise, and thrust the fists to and from the chest as rapidly as possible.

A very good exercise to develop the voice, make it soft and flexible and give it carrying power is the following: It is much practiced in the Orient, where among the better classes, the voice is very beautiful and vibrant.

Inhale a full breath slowly, hold it a few seconds, and then expel it vigorously through the mouth in one great breath.

A little exercise in retaining a full breath as long as possible is beneficial. It not only strengthens and develops all the respiratory muscles, but if any air is left in the lungs from the previous breath, it helps purify the air. And we do not at each breath always exhale all the air in the lungs. So that holding the breath occasionally helps to oxygenate the blood more fully and to clear out all stale matter in the lungs.

Barbara Boyd

The KITCHEN CABINET

Oh yes, you know, was after your design. The last perfection of the Master's mind; Heaven drew out all the cloth for us, and left your dress behind. —Dryden.

KITCHEN CONVENIENCES.

For those who have tried the card index for recipes, note books and slips of paper that are never where they were left, are things of the past.

The neat little wooden box may rest on the kitchen shelf and when a recipe is wanted can be easily found and placed near by for reference. If it is soiled by spatters, a new one will quickly replace it.

When you are on a visit, get some whole recipes added to your box, by carrying a few cards with you. You can be making a cook book every day.

If new clothes pins are put into hot water before using they will not break so easily.

To remove dirt from porcelain tubs and sinks, dampen a cloth in gasoline and rub over the places. The soil will instantly disappear, leaving the surface clean and polished.

Tips for the Housekeeper. A tablespoonful of paraffin oil with a quart of water, boiling, allowed to cool until reasonably hot will give windows a brilliant polish.

Keep cooking utensils looking like new by boiling them in soda water. Use a teaspoonful to a pint of water.

Aluminum utensils will not bear this treatment, as soda destroys the metal. To clean aluminum that is badly stained, a solution of oxalic acid is good.

Olive oil, when it may be purchased reasonably, is an ideal frying fat, as it burns less easily than any of our frying fats.

When cutting bread very thin, dip the knife occasionally in very hot water.

Cheeses which are not eaten fresh, such as the cream cheeses, should be wrapped in a cloth wet with vinegar, kept under glass away from the light.

Sugar tongs that come in candy boxes make useful articles in the kitchen. They will remove pickles and olives from bottles, remove a dish cloth that is under boiling water, remove eggs from the water and numerous other uses will be found for them.

Nellie Maxwell.

NEEDS GREAT CARE IN MAKING

Hollandaise Sauce is Delicious but Must Be Attended To With the Utmost Skill.

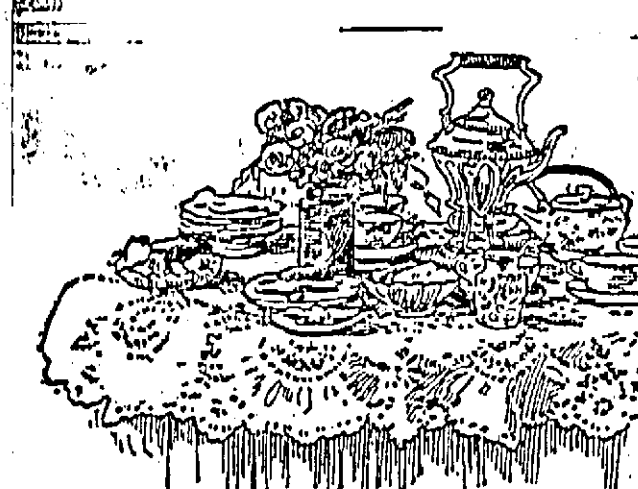

Hollandaise sauce, which is a good deal like a warm mayonnaise, is the most delicious delicacy in the French chef's kitchen, but it is easily spoiled if not carefully made and attended to. Put a pan with warm water on a part of the stove where heat is mild; set a small deep saucepan in it and drop in yolks of two eggs. Stir in, as oil is put in mayonnaise, two-thirds of a cupful of butter, putting in one small nut-size piece at a time. Watch the sauce faithfully, not letting the water get hot, but keeping it warm enough to melt the butter. When the butter is all in and melted, add salt and pepper. Then take vessel from the fire and stir in the juice of half a lemon. Serve at once in a warmed sauce-boat with boiled fish, asparagus, cauliflower or artichokes.

The least inattention while making this sauce will spoil it completely. Too much heat, or too long a stay on the fire will curdle the eggs.

To Keep Lard Fresh. To keep lard fresh for several months, stir in about a tablespoonful of honey to every six or eight gallons of lard, after removing the dried fat. —Mrs. Russell Evans, Brownsville, Tenn., in Home Department of National Magazine.

The Modern Idea. "You wish to divorce your husband? You cannot agree? In what way does your incompatibility of temperament manifest itself?" "Oh, I wish to get divorced and he doesn't." —Le Dire.

Five O'Clock Tea

THE pretty and comfortable custom of serving afternoon tea is, in many houses, quite as much a part of the regular household routine as breakfast or dinner. The tea may be simply served for the family and casual visitors who drop in at the "tea-hour," or it may be quite an elaborate affair, with invitations and many guests.

When it assumes the proportions of a reception, the dining table is the center of attraction, and guests are escorted thither. For a cup of tea with a chance caller, the tea-table is brought into the drawing-room or sitting-room. It is no longer usual to leave the small table set, as used frequently to be seen. There was a suggestion of possible dust about that custom not quite savory to the tea-drinker. To meet this change in fashion a small portable table is used.

For this most simple and pleasing way of entertaining one's friends the preparations need not be elaborate. The tea-table may stand in the corner of the drawing-room, or a room opening off it.

If the hostess expects many callers, she should ask a friend to preside over the tea urn or kettle. If coffee or chocolate is to be served another friend may be asked to pour this. The second beverage is not necessary, as the one for which the function is named is sufficient and is generally liked.

The table must be covered with a pretty cloth, and on this should be the tea-kettle with an alcohol lamp to insure a constant supply of boiling water to replenish the teapot or to weaken the liquid already poured. In some homes the maid is supposed to bring in freshly boiling water as often as required, but the particular housewife usually finds that the water which she boils herself is more certain than that carried from the boiler-room and cream-cheese sandwiches cut into semi-circles form a pretty combination, and are known by some housekeepers as "blond and brunette sandwiches." A dish of fancy cakes and macaroons, and another of chocolates and other sweets appeal to those with a sweet tooth.

Have fresh tea made often. The lover of the beverage is quick to detect the "flat" taste that proves that the same leaves have been used over and over again. Cheap tea is an abomination and expensive tea is too delicious an article to be spoiled in the making. Therefore, prepare only a little at a time—just a little more than will be needed by the guests present at the time of the making. After the beverage has stood for three minutes, it is ready to pour. The usual allowance is the old-fashioned one of "a teaspoonful of tea leaves for each person and one for the pot," but some of the finest grades of tea makes too strong a decoction if used according to this formula, and a half teaspoonful of the dried leaves for each guest makes a satisfactory drink.

When the "tea" is one of considerable proportions, several young girls friends of the hostess may assist in handing the tea cups and cakes. A small lump or two of sugar are placed in each saucer, that the guest may sweeten her tea if she wishes, if there are too many guests present to ascertain their individual preferences. These young girls, prettily dressed, add to the appearance and pleasure of the occasion; and when all the guests are chatting cozily over their tea, a charming hour is spent.

Binding on Blankets. One of the first places to show wear in a blanket is along the edge, which will begin to split into a coarse fringe. Keeping blankets well bound with inch wide ribbon will prevent this. Unless some accident happens to a blanket patching is not resorted to until it is very old, then a piece from another blanket may be laid on large enough to cover the worn place and held in place by darnings rather than sewing. All thin places can be fortified by darning with travelling from an old blanket. When the blanket is worn past repair, just double it and quilt it together here and there and lay it across the mattress under the sheet, and it will continue to be of service.

Foundation for Buttons. In putting together a lingerie waist it is often impossible to find a place in the delicate trimmings for button-holes. As DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—The Idea of Father wanting to get a Dutch lunch in Holland!

BRITZ HEADQUARTERS

MARCIN BARBER ILLUSTRATIONS BY J. M. B.

How much of his biting irony, if any, the Orientals understood they did not indicate. They only gazed at him in dumb inquiry, evidently in expectation of an ignominious and. They followed Britz with their joint gaze as he paced up and down the room, both pitifully watchful, and manifestly most wholesomely afraid.

"You saw part of what these chaps were doing," Mr. Sands said Britz, "but what you saw was only the last of it. I want to tell you the way they went through this room was amazing. I hope you didn't lose many valuable."

Half-Sat, Half-Lay There.

Sands, in his slow way, assured the detective that it was not likely the searchers had found anything he would miss very greatly; but the Headquarters man was not satisfied. The mystery of the proceeding, he was inclined to think, did not begin and end with the Orientals. It was possible, of course, they had searched Sands' room simply as a matter of routine in the same way that at the first opportunity they probably would search the home of everyone who might be connected in any way with the Misselner jewel robbery. Yet something stirred uneasily in Britz's mind as he reflected on the possibility that the coming of the Orientals held a deeper significance. What if they had reason to believe they would surely find what they sought in that room? If Sands did not know that was justification for the search, why did he take it so calmly? It did not seem natural for a man to keep his temper whose apartments had been invaded so thoroughly. If the millionaire had expressed any indignation he, Britz, would have felt better satisfied. Besides, what was it the Hindoos had taken from Sands' desk? Sands had not seen them take anything, as they were ending their search when he got the first glimpse of them. Britz watched Sands closely to see if the millionaire's eyes would turn anxiously toward that part of his furniture. He almost started when the first move Sands made, after finishing his task of blinding the prisoners, was to wander with a careless air across the room and, in passing, glance swiftly and questioningly into the pigeonholes whence the thieves had abstracted the mysterious articles that so actively engaged Britz's always active curiosity.

"It's about up to us to do a little searching now, isn't it?" asked Britz. "These bright young men have had their feelings, and I believe it's our turn at bat. What do you say, Mr. Sands?"

Sands said nothing. He nodded his head in assent, however, and Britz began a search of the Orientals fully as exhaustive as that they had performed on the room. Before he had gone far in his quest, Sands volunteered assistance, and each explored the folds of the Hindoos' raiment with the clumsiness that might be expected of men not accustomed to that sort of work.

Britz, working more swiftly than the millionaire, made his first find. It was a sheet of newspaper of fashionable size and tint, on which had been written a few lines in a feminine hand. Britz had not the slightest compunction of conscience about reading it. Chivalry was all very well in its way, but it played no part in detective work, especially when the lady most concerned was not present to make a protest. He moved to the center of the room, and in the light of a cluster of incandescent lamps read aloud to Sands the following enigmatical message:

"Curly Dear: When are you coming up to the hotel? If you do not come or send me a check quickly, I shall have to sell some of the jewels. 'MILICENT'."

"That was all. Whether that 'all' was much or little, Britz, of course, was not prepared to say. The use of Grief's given name at the beginning of the note apparently meant a good deal. But who was Millicent? In the course of his probing of the Misselner diamond mystery, Britz had canvassed the complete visiting list of everyone who was in the opera box on the night when the falsity of the Maharano diamond was discovered. He had had you' chifonier, your desk, your 'bed-side table, your bed, your chairs, your rugs, and everything else in the room. Maybe you will explain to me the reason they have such a deep interest in your housekeeping arrangements?"

"Maybe you will do a little more explaining, Lieutenant Britz," said the millionaire. "You will observe that when I said these fellows had no connection with you, I qualified the assertion."

"Oh, that was very good of you," said Britz.

Sands continued, "I should like to know right here and now just how far this qualification extends."

"Well, Mr. Sands," answered the detective as he relighted his cigar and disposed himself in the most comfortable of attitudes in the chair beside the desk, "there are a good many things we may like to explain. I should like, for instance, to know how your visiting card came to be in the possession of a man who is an inmate of the State Hospital for the Insane on Ward's Island?"

If Britz expected to startle Sands into any physical expression of guilt, he was disappointed. The millionaire's muscles were as inflexible as his determination not to satisfy the detective's inquisitiveness in regard to that which he had taken from the Hindoos.

"You are in a mood for riddles, lieutenant," said Sands slowly. "Now, you see, I am not. My time is too valuable."

"Well, what are you going to do about these fellows?" asked Britz.

"Oh, don't you bother about them," said Sands. "I guess I can take care of them."

"I guess you'll guess again," said Britz. "For if anybody is going to take care of these gentlemen, behold to me the only original little caretaker!"

Britz turned to the Hindoos.

"Now, then, you ducky beauties, suppose you come along with me."

"Going to carry them?" asked Sands.

Britz blushed; yes, Britz fairly and squarely blushed. In his momentary exasperation at the millionaire's stubbornness he had forgotten that not only the hands, but also the feet of the Orientals were bound. However, he was not to be disconcerted, and it was with sufficient readiness that he replied:

"You don't suppose I take my prisoners through the streets like a member of the Traffic Squad, do you? Where's your telephone?"

Sands indicated the instrument and Britz took it up and called for 2100 Hyperm.

"Headquarters?" he asked over the wire. "Yes, this is Britz. Have a wagon sent from the West Third Street Station to the St. Barnabas Apartment house. No, don't send the reserves; just send a couple of men. Good-by."

As he rang off, he turned and faced his host.

"Mr. Sands," said he, "there are one or two points about which I would like to talk to you this evening. I came to you frankly and directly because I found one of your cards in the possession of a man who, while mentally unbalanced, knows something about the fake Maharano diamond. After arriving here, I had the opportunity to serve you in the way of protecting your property. And I wasted no time in meeting with you. You see fit to ignore my efforts in that direction, although I may say that if it had not been for me these second-story specialists would have been up or down the fire escape and many blocks away long before you could have caught them. I do not mind telling you, Mr. Sands, that even though you were center rush at Harvard, you are not quick enough for Central Office men. And now, when you find something on one of these men that is of interest to me, or may not be of interest to me, instead of letting me see it, or telling me its contents—I'd take your word for it—you stuff it into your pocket and tell me to go to blazes. Moreover, when I ask you what disposition you want made of these burglars, you almost tell me it's none of my business."

Britz rocked on his heels and thrust his hands into his pockets with force that was eloquent of his displeasure to anybody who knew him well.

POLEY'S KIDNEY REMEDY.

Is particularly recommended for chronic cases of kidney and bladder trouble. It tends to adjust and control the kidney and bladder action and is healing, strengthening and bracing.

L. McConnell, 117 Catherine St., Elmhurst, N. Y., says: "Two bottles did the work most effectively, and proved to me beyond doubt it is the most reliable kidney medicine I have ever taken and it shall always have my endorsement." Badger Drug Co.

"Now, let me tell you, Mr. Sands," he went on, "that it is my business what becomes of these prisoners. They are going to the Tenderloin Police Station, and a charge of burglary is going to be entered on the blotter against them."

"I am not going to prosecute them," said Sands.

"Oh, you're not, aren't you? Well, I think you will," returned Britz. "Any way, if you don't feel like prosecuting them, I'll do it myself. This case is not in your hands now; it belongs to the people of the State of New York, and if you don't choose to appear as complainant, I'll call you as a witness for the State. So, Mr. Sands, if you are not hopelessly addicted to cigars or cigarettes in the exclusion of all other forms of the weed, permit me to suggest that when we have left you alone, you retire to the remote background of your apartment, put that in your pipe and smoke it!"

Sands became genuinely angry. It took a good deal to disturb his equanimity, but the detective's manner, as he saw it, was offensive. Sands seriously meditated for an instant an attempt to grasp the Headquarters man by the collar, rush him to the door, and drop him down at least one flight of stairs. The sleuth's coolness and courage avoided any unpleasantness of that sort, and his unwilling host quickly regained his grip upon himself.

The tension of the situation was relaxed by the buzzing of the electric bell at the outer door of the apartment, and the entrance of a somewhat blustering bellboy with an announcement that a patrol wagon was at the door and two policemen were asking for Detective Britz of Headquarters, who was visiting Mr. Sands.

"Bring them up," said Britz, waiting no further time on courtesy. Then he turned to the millionaire and said: "I wouldn't have brought the patrol wagon here, Mr. Sands, if you had been a little more considerate. A couple of plain-clothes men could have taken these fellows to the police station easily enough; but, when a man, through a rush of emotion to the brain, or—for some other reason—makes faces at the law as openly as you have done, why, let the law take its course, I say."

(To Be Continued.)

A Catching Time.

"Jiggletton," said the man who was away for the week-end, "caught a brook trout. His little girl caught the messes. His boy was caught out six times in a game of ball, and I caught cold watching the game. So then I caught the next train back to town."—Browning's Magazine.

Cheering Him Up.

The Wife—After all, Adolphus, this visit isn't going to be so expensive. With the half-dozen dresses I simply had to get and your clothes clean and pressed we'll manage splendidly.—Harper's Bazar.

Lost a Customer.

Cashier—But there is not a cent here to pay this check of yours. Fair Customer—I am glad that you have confessed. If your bank is as hard up as that, you can give me what money I have here and I will take my account to a safer institution.—Puck.

Life Insurance Companies

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have the disease.

He states that judging from his own experience and reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmore's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty-cents and one-dollar.

However, if you wish first to test its wonderful merits, send to Dr. Kilmore & Co., Hinghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle absolutely free. When writing be sure and mention the Janeville Daily Gazette.

Russian Oats Superior.

Oats constitute three-fourths of the food upon which the Russian horse must exist during the 12 months of the year. Russian oats, however, are far superior in sustaining power to the American cereal. It is also claimed that animals do not become tired of their steady diet as they do of the hay and corn products in the United States.

Traffic in Chinese Girls.

In Yunnan, China, girls are still sold into slavery. In one year about 300 children from this neighborhood were sold to dealers and carried to the capital in baskets like poultry. At ordinary times the price for girls is about $1 for each year of their age, but in time of famine children become a drug on the market.

Place for Everything

Every house should be supplied with a handy box which contains one tube of glue, ball of twine, box of assorted fasteners and suspension rings, rubber bands, gummed labels, bottle and jar labels, small string tags, packages of large and small tags, spool of adhesive tape and a box of key tags.

To Renovate Leather.

Shabby leather books may be very much improved by rubbing them with the well-beaten white of an egg. Then polish with beeswax and turpentine and rub with a clean cloth.

Does Seem Queer.

Isn't it queer that the author that the yeggmen use when they go out to blow open a post office safe never seem to break down?—Somerville Journal.

Reality in Life.

For he who has given satisfaction to the best of his time has lived for ages.—Schiller.

End Bowel Misery

With a 'Cascaret'

Never Any Headache, Billoiness, Indigestion, or Constipation—No more miserable days after this.

This is the day of the gentle in medicine. The cathartic pill is old-fashioned. Salts and castor oil belong to grandmother's time. The modern doctor deals mildly. Cascarets are effective, yet gentle. They don't irritate or grip. They don't, like cathartics, waste the digestive fluids.

Cascarets do only what some foods will do, what some fruits will do, what exercise does for the bowels. Their action is natural, not artificial. If you live outdoors, exercise a great deal, and avoid rich foods, you don't need them. Otherwise you do.

The most helpful laxative ever devised is Cascarets. They are candy tablets pleasant to take. Then, they are convenient. The ten-cent box fits the vest pocket or the lady's purse. That is a vital point. The time to take a laxative is the minute you suspect that you need it. Don't wait till you get home; don't wait till night. One Cascaret, taken any time, makes you feel great and they cost only 10c per box.

World's Wealthiest Individuals.

It is quite impossible to say who are the eight richest men and women in the world. Some of the Indian princes are enormously wealthy, though the extent of their fortunes is not known. There are besides many wealthy families and individuals in Europe whose names are little known in this country, and about whose fortunes so little is reliably known as to make a comparison impossible.

Just Boys.

"I inquired once," says Mr. Arthur D. Dean in the World's Work, "of a group of teachers what they taught. One said 'mathematics,' another replied 'English,' still another, 'science,' but the fourth—God bless the little prophets—merely said: 'Please, sir; just boys.'"

Sometimes Succeeds.

One-half the world may not know how the other half lives, but the feminine half makes a strenuous effort to find out.—San Luis Obispo Tribune.

A LEADING CALIFORNIA DRUG-GIST.

Paradise, Cal., March 3, 1911.

Foley and Co., Gentlemen:—We have sold and recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for years. We believe it to be one of the most efficient expectorants on the market. Containing no opiates or narcotics it can be given freely to children. Enough of the remedy can be taken to relieve a cold, as it has no nauseating results, and does not interfere with digestion. Yours very truly, C. H. Ward Drug Co., C. L. Parsons, Sec'y, and Treas.

Get the original Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the yellow package. Badger Drug Co.

ALL SUMMER

JUNE 1 to SEPT. 30

New York

$30 ROUND TRIP

FROM CHICAGO

Direct Route or via Washington with Stop-Overs

PENNSYLVANIA

Lines

Atlantic City, Cape May $29.50

and other Sea Shore Resorts, Round Trip

ALL TICKETS GOOD RETURNING 30 DAYS FROM DATE OF PURCHASE

L. B. POORE, Traveling Passenger Agent

126 South Pinckney Street, MADISON, WIS.

ASK FOR ILLUSTRATED DESCRIPTIVE FOLDER GIVING FULL PARTICULARS

CERTAINTY IS WHAT A MAN SEEKS IN EVERYTHING

The man who buys a Model 10 Visible

Remington

Typewriter

buys absolute certainty; a certainty of satisfaction guaranteed by the greatest typewriter makers in the world

Remington Typewriter Company

(Incorporated)

414 Broadway, Milwaukee, Wis. H. E. WENDEL, Local Representative, 411 Jackson Block, Janesville, Wis. Old phone 877; New 1174

